"INCONCEIVABLE CONSEQUENCES" UNLESS REPARATIONS QUESTION IS SETTLED RIGHT, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

SAY BUSINESS DEAL IS BEHIND STRANGE MURDER

Police Think Simon Gottlieb Was Shot in Office at 2302 Wash as Result of Casual Dispute.

BROTHER DIES AS RESULT OF SHOCK

Jacob Gottlieb Expires in Auto After Visiting the Morgue and Identifying the Body.

The murder of Simon Gottlieb in his real estate office at 2302 Wash street yesterday afternoon, which was followed by the sudden death of his brother, Jacob, apparently due to heart shock, seemingly was the result of a casual business dispute, detectives of the police homicide squad said today.

The detectives based their theory on the fact that no attempt was made to rob Simon Gottlieb and, so far as the detectives were able to learn, Gottlieb had no enemies who had threatened his life.

There were no eyewitnesses to the actual murder, but several negroes living in the vicinity of the office, who saw two men running away from the office, followed by Gottlieb, who collapsed when he reached the sidewalk, have told the police that the men were swarthy complexioned.

Alone in Office When Assaulted. Simon Gottlieb, who was 45 years old and resided at 5152A Minerva avenue, was alone in his office when the assailants entered. What transpired immediately before the shooting only the slayers themselves know.

Peter Carroll, who has a grocery at 2300 Wash street, one door east of the real estate office, told the police that he heard no shots. The first indication he had that there had been trouble, he said, was when Gottlieb staggered to the green door of the grocery, gasped "I'm shot," and fell unconscious. Carroll lifted him into a chair in the grocery where he expired.

Carroll said that when Gottlieb collapsed at the front door two men were running north on Twenty-third street in the direction of Carr street. At this point the negroes took the lead of the story. They said they saw two men run from the real estate office with Gottlieb in pursuit. As the men reached the corner one of them stopped and fired two shots at Gottlieb and they then ran north in Twenty-third.

Bullets Found on Floor. But the bullets that killed Gottlieb were fired in the office. Detectives found two bullets that had passed through his body. They were on the floor. One was a steel-jacketed bullet and the other was of lead, indicating that they had been fired from two revolvers. The police believe that each of the two men fired at Gottlieb before they ran out. The bullets had passed through the body, both entering at the abdomen.

Miss Mary Ellen Baker, 4343 St. Francis avenue, clerk for Gottlieb, who was out collecting rents when the shooting occurred, told the police that her employer had never had any serious trouble over the question of rents. A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of homicide by unidentified persons in the case.

No eye witness of the shooting appeared at the inquest. Carroll testified that Gottlieb staggered into his store, exclaiming, "I've been shot," and collapsed. Clarence Goff, a storekeeper at 2311 Wash street, testified that he heard two shots, and saw Gottlieb leaving the door of Carroll's store, but saw no one who might have fired the shots.

Miss Baker told that Wednesday Gottlieb had a quarrel with a woman tenant about a deposit as a woman tenant had left with her to be delivered to Gottlieb, and that Gottlieb had ordered the two women from his office.

The Jacob Gottlieb inquest will be tomorrow. Mrs. Bessie Pappas of 1907 Franklin avenue, one of the women referred to by Miss Baker, informed the police that last Sunday she took it upon herself to rent the downstairs flat to a Mrs. George Greaves.

HORSE SHIPPED FROM CODY RANCH TO BE MODEL FOR STATUE

"Smockey" Begins 2500-Mile Trip to New York Where Scout's Statue Will Be Carved.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—"Smockey" a horse selected from the ranch formerly owned by Buffalo Bill (William F. Cody) at Cody, Wyo., arrived in Chicago in a special car yesterday, en route to New York, where he will be used as a model for the mount in the statue of the famous scout to be carved by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

The horse was born on the Cody ranch and is the personal riding horse of F. C. Groves Jr., present owner of the Cody ranch. He had never been off the ranch until he started on his 2500-mile trip. He is a magnificent black, with arching neck and the dash and go of the Buffalo Bill mount, which he is presumed to closely resemble. The statue will be of bronze and will be erected in the midst of 50 acres of raw land on the edge of Cody. Mrs. Whitney visited Cody and selected the site.

The memorial is under the direction of the National Buffalo Bill Committee, which committee will meet in Washington Saturday.

SACHS TELLS OF TRAFFIC IN BOGUS MEDICAL DIPLOMAS

Dean of Defunct University Makes Statement at the Office of Circuit Attorney Sidener.

'15,000 UNQUALIFIED PRACTITIONERS IN U. S.'

Attorney Says That Professor Gave This Estimate as "His Deliberate Judgment."

Prof. William P. Sachs of University City, dean of the defunct National University of Arts and Sciences, who has been sought for several days on account of his alleged connection with the issuance of a bogus medical diploma, went last night to the office of Circuit Attorney Sidener and made a statement of his part in and knowledge of traffic in bogus high school and medical diplomas.

Henry W. McChesney, one of Sachs' attorneys, who was present when Sachs' statement was made to the Circuit Attorney, told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that Sachs gave it as "his deliberate judgment" that there are throughout the United States probably 15,000 persons practicing medicine under fraudulent diplomas without having taken the required courses of instruction.

Attorney McChesney stated that Prof. Sachs' statement was along this line: That not all of the fraudulent diplomas were issued by the clique of which Sachs was a member, because there were other cliques, one in California, one in Chicago and one or more in the East.

Physician Mentioned. That most of his work, which consisted mostly in supplying fraudulent credits for high school work which would enable recipients to enter medical schools, was done through Dr. Robert Adcox, of 444 Belmont park, his connection with whom began about 12 years ago and continued until a very short time ago.

That the certificates for high school credits were supplied to Dr. Adcox for as little as $5 and $10 each; sometimes Sachs received $25. Sachs discovered, he said, in the course of his dealings with Dr. Adcox, that the latter was selling the certificates for from $200 to $500. He learned this from students who came to him for copies of credits. Most of them, he said, told him that they paid $250 to Dr. Adcox.

That Adcox, in giving him names to be used in issuing certificates, said he had examined the applicants and found them capable.

McChesney added that although no promise had been made, it was hoped the Circuit Attorney would be fit to use Sachs as a State witness and show leniency to him.

The conference, which began about 8 o'clock and lasted until an early hour this morning, was attended by Circuit Attorney Sidener, Assistant Circuit Attorney Gastner, Prosecuting Attorney Jones of St. Louis County, Sachs and McChesney and Sachs' other attorney, Carl M. Dubinsky.

Was Active in Politics. Circuit Attorney Sidener said that Sachs was brought in by his attorneys and told the story of his life, how he was formerly a Lutheran minister, but on account of trouble with his wife left the ministry in 1912 and went into educational work. For a while he conducted a school at which students prepared to get high school credits. He was active in Democratic politics and when Bolte was Lieutenant Governor he got a job as examiner under State Superintendent of Schools Gass.

In that position Sachs had so many certificates to sign he asked Gass for permission to have a seal made. Gass made. Up to that time he had not been engaged in anything improper. He was dismissed from State employment by Gass' successor.

In 1918 he was connected with the Walther College and had power to grant credits, and in 1918, 1919 and 1920 he was superintendent of schools at Potosi, Mo., and had authority to issue high school certificates. When he came from there he brought signed certificates with him, which he later issued and antedated for pay.

Sachs told, Sidener said, that there was a very active business in fraudulent diplomas.

GOVERNORS PLEDGE AID TO COOLIDGE IN ENFORCING DRY LAW

'Fullest Co-operation' Promised by Resolution of Annual Conference After Stormy Debate.

PARKER OF LOUISIANA WALKS FROM MEETING

Asserts Klan, as "Greatest Issue," Demands Attention Instead of Mere Words on 18th Amendment.

By the Associated Press. WESTBADEN, Ind., Oct. 19.—A formal resolution pledging to President Coolidge the "fullest co-operation" in enforcement of prohibition was adopted at the 15th annual governors' conference here today after a stormy debate. Adoption of the motion was accompanied by a tumult of shouting and stamping during which Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana, left the meeting.

When the conference met today Gov. P. H. Baxter of Maine called for unfinished business and Gov. William E. Sweet of Colorado said the redraft of the memorial on the prohibition question, to be presented to President Coolidge in Washington tomorrow was ready for the signatures of the Governors.

Blame in Opposition. Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin was on his feet instantly with objections to the printing of the memorial, declaring that the "round robin is an evasion of our rule against resolutions." He urged a discussion of methods for enforcing the Volstead act instead of "proclaiming from the hustings that we are virtuous men and good Governors."

"I am opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act and the people of Wisconsin know it," said Blaine. "But there is no criticism of the enforcement of the laws in our State. If we are meeting here to memorialize on the enforcement of laws we should neglect none. This fanaticism is base hypocrisy."

Gov. Parker of Louisiana said he would resign from the conference of Governors if a single name were attached to the memorial. "The Ku Klux Klan is the greatest issue in America today," he asserted, "and that question demands the time and attention of this meeting instead of mere words on the Eighteenth Amendment."

Neff Strong for Enforcement. "I have declared military rule 20 times in various parts of Texas to insure law enforcement," asserted Pat M. Neff, Governor of the Lone Star State, "and if 47 Governors refuse to sign this memorial, it still will go to the national capital with the signature of the largest unit in this republic. President Coolidge has invited the Governors to Washington to discuss prohibition enforcement, not the Klan, and we therefore should confine ourselves to the purpose of the meeting."

"Let this conference proclaim to every bootlegger and every distiller in this country that this law will be enforced. And let us proclaim to the enemies of the constitution that we are for the law."

ZEV PRONOUNCED FIT; WILL RACE PAPYRUS

Announcement Made After Inspection of Colt, Which Has Developed Skin Malady.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Zev late today was pronounced fit and will race Papyrus tomorrow in the $100,000 international classic at Belmont Park.

This announcement was made by Major August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey Club's race committee, after a careful inspection had been made of the Rancocas colt, which developed a sudden skin malady overnight, but which it was believed would not interfere with the animal's running.

The malady affecting Zev has assumed the proportions of an epidemic at Belmont Park, where three horses have been hit, and every precaution is being taken to prevent it reaching the stable where Papyrus, the English Derby winner, is housed.

British Bookmakers Laying 2 to 1 Odds Against Papyrus

LONDON, Oct. 19.—British bookmakers are betting 2 to 1 against Papyrus for tomorrow's race at Belmont Park despite reports from New York that the odds have shrunk to even money. There is little wagering on the race.

The followers of racing are devouring columns of statistics and gossip on the races at British tracks out apparently few of them are excited over the international event.

My Own Will Be Ready.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, owner of My Own, said today that if his 3-year-old were called upon to meet Papyrus at Belmont Park tomorrow the race would find My Own in good condition despite the eleventh hour upset in plans.

"I am a little sorry," said Admiral Grayson, "that we did not have longer notice, but if My Own enters the race there will be no allis. I am confident the railroad trip will not hurt him, and that he will be found in good condition."

Auto Drive Through City Followed by Free Afternoon For Visiting British Statesman

Lloyd George Shakes Hands With British War Veteran in Group Greeting Him After Arrival.

The arrival of the Lloyd George party and the automobile drive, which was in the nature of a parade, took up the forenoon.

The party, which with the accompanying newspaper correspondents occupied three special cars, arrived from Springfield, Ill., on a train which reached Union Station at 8:35 a. m. The special cars were taken to Lindell and Union boulevards, where the party was undisturbed until 10 o'clock. Then came a call by a small reception committee and by reporters, followed a half hour later by the appearance of the visitors on the rear platform of their car.

A gathering of more than 1000 persons was waiting to welcome them, and "America," which is also "God Save the King," was played, followed by the Welsh air, "Men of Harlech," in honor of the portion of the United Kingdom from which Lloyd George came.

Thirty-five British and Canadian war veterans, in uniform and with a standard of British and American flags, were nearest to the former director of the Empire's war policy as he left the train. Although the escorting committee was in a hurry to begin the parade, Lloyd George would not be led past these men without stopping and shaking the hands of the ranking officer, Maj. McDonald, and the men nearest him.

Beyond the veterans, on the lawn of the Gateworth Hotel, stood soldiers of the Sixth Infantry, from Jefferson Barracks, and the regimental band, which played the national airs. The gathering on the terrace was 10 and 12 deep, and handclapping, rather than vocal cheering, was the means by which it welcomed the guests of honor.

Wife and Daughter Entertained. Dame Lloyd George, the first to leave the car, was taken in charge by Mrs. Herbert S. Hadley, Mrs. John S. Payne and Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, as a Reception Committee. Miss McGowan, who emerged next, smiled on the gathering, whose admiring comment was expressed in such phrases as "Isn't she a dear?" Miss Mary Virginia Collins and Miss Isabelle Chenie Smith, debutantes, were presented as Miss Lloyd George's companions for the day.

In his private car, before appearing to the public, Lloyd George talked with St. Louis newspaper reporters and with the newspaper men who had accompanied him, about 20 in number, who had occupied the two forward cars.

NO PART OF WORLD WILL ESCAPE, HE TELLS HEARERS

"Correct Solution Only Through Disinterested Investigation of Extent to Which Germany Can Pay, and U. S. Must Take Part in That Investigation."

LUNCHEON SPEECH FEATURE OF VISIT

Britain's Wartime Premier Says His Country Is Friend of France and Has Proved That She Is Justified in Giving France Advice.

The address was the chief feature of the former Premier's St. Louis visit, the farthest-west stop on his tour of the United States. It followed an automobile parade through the city, and then there was a period of rest and sightseeing. The former Premier, with Dame Lloyd George and their daughter, Miss Megan Lloyd George, is to depart for Louisville at 9:04 p. m.

The Hotel Statler double banquet room on the sixteenth floor was crowded beyond its capacity to get all the audience within sound of the speaker. Above the speaker's table were framed portraits of President Coolidge, King George and Lloyd George, United States and British flags being intertwined about them.

When the former Premier entered he was greeted by applause which continued about one minute.

Introductory speeches were made by Edward Hildren, Mayor Kiel and Melville L. Wilkison.

"Britain France's Friend." Fear of the "menace of anarchy" coming out of the "chaos of the Europe" was held before the audience by Lloyd George as the real danger in the situation of which the reparations question is the governing issue. That was the trend of the speech, in which the former Premier declared Britain was the friend of France and had been so since 1914 and 1918 demonstrated its friendship to a degree which gave her the right to offer advice now.

Asserting that he had no apology for Germany, which he charged with the blame for the war, he said that although the Government of Germany had changed, Germany must pay, and to its full ability, "reasonably interpreted."

On Capacity to Pay. "By reasonable interpretation," he declared, "I do not mean her capacity to pay if you starve her children, kill her old men, debilitate her strong men, if you make her a nation of blind men. We do not want nations of blind men."

He referred smilingly to an address yesterday in St. Louis by Gen. Georges A. L. Dumont, military attaché of the French Embassy in Washington, in which the General was quoted as saying he "prayed the Lord to protect us from our friends."

"I wish he had not used that expression," Lloyd George said, "I never heard that prayer between 1914 and 1918. Then there were prayers to friends to protect them from their enemies."

"German's Ships Taken Away." Germany's purchase of ships and railroad cars, he said, was necessary to save the nation from starvation, all of her ships and hundreds of thousands of her cars having been taken from her.

Asserting that he could see no conceivable object France could

WALLACE TO TESTIFY FOR MRS. STOKES

Mining Engineer, Named In Suit as Co-respondent, on Way From San Francisco to Be Witness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—An affidavit charging W. E. D. Stokes with obtaining evidence from his wife, Helen Elwood Stokes, today was introduced by Isaac Schapiro of counsel for Mrs. Stokes in the record of the retrial before Supreme Court Justice Mahoney, in the record of the retrial before Supreme Court Justice Mahoney, in the record of the retrial before Supreme Court Justice Mahoney.

The affidavit was made by Mrs. Charles Williams of Bethel, Conn., a reputation of another affidavit by her and read into the record by Max Steiner, chief counsel for Mrs. Stokes, charging that Mrs. Williams had given Mrs. Stokes in company with Edgar T. Wallace, co-respondent, at the summer home of W. L. Pepperman, near Mrs. Williams' home at Bethel, Conn., a copy of the affidavit, it is said, were the basis of the trial at Bethel of Mrs. Williams on charges of perjury brought by Stokes. She was acquitted by a jury.

The first affidavit, introduced into the record today by Steiner, was made on July 17, 1922. It declared that Mrs. Williams had seen a woman answering the description of Mrs. Stokes in company with Wallace at the Pepperman home. It described as "the conduct of Wallace, Mrs. Stokes, who had been introduced as Helen Gwynne, Pepperman and Miss Daisy Hal."

Other Statements Also False.
The second affidavit, read by Schapiro, said Mrs. Williams met Stokes on July 14, 1922. She was visiting in Bethel, Conn., when a Miss Edw. came to visit her there, drove her to New York in a motor car, and left her at Stokes' office.

Mrs. Williams said, she took down her remarks, and time to get a train home. She said, she signed what was alleged to be a transcript of her remarks on Stokes' assurance that she would have a chance to correct any inaccuracies.

"I charge," she said in her repudiating affidavit, "that Mr. Stokes asked me into signing it (the first affidavit). All I said was that the woman who had been introduced as Helen Gwynne, Pepperman and Miss Daisy Hal, I did not identify Mr. Wallace because I did not know him."

Mrs. Williams characterized other statements in the first document as "entirely untrue." She asserted that twice already corrected copies of her remarks to Stokes had been sent to her, but that she had signed them because she had no objection to the jury listening to Mrs. Stokes' testimony.

"I object to this show of generosity," she said.

Stokes' attorney, Mr. Steiner, said that Mrs. Williams' testimony was "entirely untrue." He charged that Dr. Wallace, a mining engineer, now in San Francisco, eight years ago had an apartment at 23 East 43rd street, which W. E. D. Stokes in his five-year fight for a divorce charges his wife visited there.

Wallace was expected to arrive at New York today, but telegraphed he was detained. He is expected to appear in court Monday. He is now being held by the defense counsel, who was testified at the first trial that Mrs. Stokes was innocent.

and that after accepting a deposit of $10 from Mrs. Greaves she removed the "rent" sign.

Dispute Over Renting Place.
The next day a young man called and asked why the sign had been removed," said Mrs. Baker. "He said he was Gottlieb's agent, and I told him the place had been rented and gave him the $10. He gave me a receipt for the money and I still have it."

Gottlieb called Tuesday and he also wanted to know why the sign was down. When I told him the circumstances he became angry. He said he had no agent and that the sign would have to go up again.

Verdict of Homicide.
"Wednesday I went with Mrs. Greaves to Gottlieb's office. Mrs. Greaves wanted to know when she could move into the flat. Gottlieb told her the place had not been rented. He said no young man had given him $10 and that no one was authorized to rent the place but him. He ordered us from his office and we left."

Brother Dies in Auto.
Jacob Gottlieb, 42 years old, a widower, who resided at 1273 Amherst place, and who was associated with his brother in the real estate business, when informed of the murder, was deeply affected. He went to the morgue and identified the body and made arrangements for its removal to a private undertaking establishment.

At 10:15 p. m. when he was on his way home from the morgue in the automobile of Ben Mushlin of 5585 Page boulevard, he fell over in his seat, dead, at King's highway and Delmar boulevard. A physician said that death was due to heart trouble. The body later was taken to the morgue and placed beside that of Simon Gottlieb.

never more will America look upon the blight of civilization and the curse of humanity since time began—the liquor traffic.

"This is not a consideration of the merits of prohibition. That question was settled by the voice of 100,000,000 people, and it is settled forever. No state, be it New York or Wisconsin has the right to encourage the enemies of the Federal constitution."

Gov. Parker interrupted the Texas Governor with the statement that the Ku Klux Klan was seeking to take charge of the constitution and Gov. Blaine rose to a point of order to challenge Gov. Neff on his statement regarding encouraging enemies of the constitution. With several governors clamoring for the floor, Gov. Baxter restored order only by vigorous pounding with the gavel.

Blaine and Neff Clash.
Leaving over Gov. Neff's chair and shaking his finger at him, Gov. Blaine asked:

"Will the Governor please answer the question whether enforcement of the law is in proclamations or in actions?"

"We must show the outlaws that first there is the will of public officers to enforce the law," shouted Gov. Neff; "and, second, we must put them on the rocks of our state penitentiaries to consider their ways."

Gov. George S. Silzer of New Jersey joined the debate with the statement that New Jersey is no weaker than any other state. "We are in favor of law enforcement," he continued, "but the will to enforce the law is not the end of the question in New Jersey."

Text of the resolution adopted by the Governors, which was in the form of a memorial to the President, follows:

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 19.—For the first time in Turkey, native women last night took part in a public dance with foreign society. The occasion was a charity soiree organized by Shukri Nalil Pasha, under the direction of the Constantinople troops.

With these questions, "We believe that the chief executive of every state should be zealous in the enforcement of the prohibition law and should urge upon the state officials a strict observance and enforcement of the same."

"We believe that the State and Federal officers should co-operate fully in preventing the violation of our prohibition law and in making effective the will of our people in regard to its enforcement. New conditions impose new responsibilities. People who violate our law will be more readily be guilty of violating other laws."

"Therefore, the individual States should share with the Federal Government the duty and responsibility of enforcing the eighteenth amendment."

"We pledge you, as Governors, our fullest co-operation and effort."

Dr. F. C. Walte of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, who has been invited by Dr. E. P. North, president of the Missouri State Board of Health, to come here and conduct a survey of the Missouri medical situation, has replied, suggesting a conference upon the matter, as he is not willing to undertake the work without understanding more fully what is desired, and the probable time required.

Dr. North, who is in Jefferson City today, replied, urging him to come here for such a conference, which probably will be held in St. Louis Sunday. Dr. Walte said in his telegram that he could not undertake the survey earlier than Nov. 1.

147 LINES PENNED BY SHAKESPEARE, IN BRITISH MUSEUM

Discovery Augments Six Signatures, Only Other Known Specimens of His Handwriting.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 19.—"Shakespeare discovery of the first magnitude" is announced by the Daily Express on the authority of Vernon H. Rendall, former editor of the Athenaeum.

The announcement says that for more than 100 years there has lain in the British Museum 147 lines of manuscript constituting an addition to a play written by Anthony Munday, the Elizabethan writer, on the life of Sir Thomas More. Published about the year 1592, the play was corrected by several hands and it had been suggested that one scene was written by Shakespeare.

It has now been established by eminent scholars according to the present statement, that the handwriting of this manuscript is actually that of the great dramatist, inasmuch as it is identical with that of six signatures of his name which hitherto have been supposed to be the only existing specimens of the poet's calligraphy.

RING' OPERATIONS

ulent certificates during the war, due to the desire of men to acquire diplomas and get medical commissions in the army. He dealt mostly in such high school certificates; enable applicants to get into medical schools for a short time and then get diplomas.

Spoke With Emotion.
Sachs spoke with considerable emotion, Sidener said, when he was telling about his first improper deal. He declared that he issued only two medical diplomas, one of which went to Harry T. Brundage, a reporter for the St. Louis Star when the National University of Arts and Sciences went out of existence he went to Chicago and had diplomas made on parchment from the stone that had been used for that purpose.

When Roy Alexander, another reporter for the Star, offered him $500 for a diploma, he "felt like Santa Claus had come" and raised the price to $550.

Sidener's Opinion.
Circuit Attorney Sidener expressed the opinion that the "diploma ring" was a "fallacious" one. He was unimpressed and remarked that he had only 15 cents in his pocket. He said he came in because when he got to thinking about the many who were practicing medicine without being qualified he was conscience-stricken.

"I realize," said Sidener, "that Sachs is a small potato. He said he had never earned more than $1400 a year in his life. At the National University of Arts and Sciences his salary was $800. Extra earnings brought his income up to $1400 and he thought he was sitting on the world. He appears to have been the dupe of men like Drs. Voigt, Alexander and Adcox."

"His statement has been looked up in the safe and I will not take it up until after investigation of many leads and after the trial of the Hoffenschild case."

After Sachs' conference at the Circuit Attorney's office, he was permitted, without giving bond, to spend the remainder of the night at his home, 602 Westgate avenue.

This afternoon, accompanied by his attorneys, he went to the office of Attorney General E. P. North at Clayton for the purpose of making further disclosures concerning operations in the county.

Sachs Formerly an Examiner for State School Head.
Sachs, who is a physician, was formerly an official examiner for the State Superintendent of Instruction, when Howard A. Gass held that position.

Brundage, the reporter for the St. Louis Star, who worked up the case, has stated to the Circuit Attorney that Sachs furnished him with a certificate of high school credits, which did not represent any actual examination or school work done, but which was needed as a preliminary qualification for the diploma which was to be issued to him later.

The diploma, conferring the degree of Doctor of Medicine upon "Harry Thompson," the name under which Brundage worked, was later furnished by Sachs. It is charged, it was a diploma of the National University of Arts and Sciences, medical department, and bore a date in 1916. The institution closed in 1916. The diploma bore Sachs' signature and that of several physicians, one of whom has said that his signature must have been forged.

Three Physicians Under Bond.
Three physicians were named by Brundage as having had part in the transactions. He charged that Dr. Adcox first proposed to him that he become a physician by a short-cut diploma route; and that later stages of the negotiations were carried out by Dr. D. R. Alexander, secretary and chief of the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery, and with Dr. Ralph Voigt of Kansas City. He said he paid Voigt a total of $1200, and that Voigt handled the financial part of the matter.

Drs. Adcox, Alexander and Voigt were arrested Monday when the charges were first made public, and all are under bond. Dr. Voigt having had to remain in jail at Kansas City until yesterday.

Dr. F. C. Walte of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, who has been invited by Dr. E. P. North, president of the Missouri State Board of Health, to come here and conduct a survey of the Missouri medical situation, has replied, suggesting a conference upon the matter, as he is not willing to undertake the work without understanding more fully what is desired, and the probable time required.

NOTED LAWYER FALLS DEAD IN A DRUG STORE

Chester H. Krum, 83, Who Served as U. S. Attorney Under Grant, Victim of Heart Attack.

Former Judge Chester H. Krum, 83 years old, fell dead from heart disease in a drug store at Belt avenue and the Suburban street car tracks at 8:30 a. m. today, when he was waiting for a street car.

He was not feeling well when he left his home, 5551 Chamberlain avenue, a few minutes earlier, but he believed he was strong enough to go to his office in the Title Guaranty building. He had been under treatment for heart trouble for several years.

It had been his custom for years to step inside the drug store, either to wait for a car or to make small purchases. He walked in at the usual time this morning, remarking that he wanted to go to the washroom. He had started towards the rear of the store when he collapsed, falling to the floor.

Employees in the store attempted to revive him, at the same time calling a physician from an office across the street. Krum was pronounced dead by the physician within a few minutes after he collapsed.

U. S. Attorney Under Grant.
Krum was born in Alto, but had resided in St. Louis since he was two years old. He studied law at Washington University and Harvard and was admitted to the bar in 1864. He was United States Attorney here under President Grant. He was a Circuit Judge from 1872 to 1875, when he resumed the practice of law.

From 1873 to 1882 he was a member of the faculty of the St. Louis Law School. He was a member of the law firm of Krum and Medill from 1875 to 1877, a member of the firm of Krum and Jonas from 1882 to 1887 and since then had practiced alone.

He was a man of letters, as well as a lawyer, and was a brilliant orator. He was of striking physical appearance, his flowing Dandry whiskers being one of his chief characteristics.

Authority on U. S. Law.
He resigned the office of District Attorney to defend the well-known men who were accused in the Government case against the famous "Whisky Ring" in the late 60's. He was considered an authority on Federal law, most of his practice was in the United States courts, although he appeared in the criminal divisions of the Circuit Court at times in conspicuous cases, notably some of those growing out of the hoodie investigation and the "get-rich-quick" frauds. He took part in the defense of Edward Butler at Columbia when Joseph W. Folk obtained a conviction for attempted bribery, which the Supreme Court later reversed.

The most recent case in which he engaged was as defense counsel for Phil Pollack, an attorney who was involved in litigation over the estate of Frederick Moll. A contest over the will of Moll is pending and Pollack, who was sentenced for contempt of court because he refused to be sworn in the taking of depositions, was successfully defended by Judge Krum in the Supreme Court, where a writ of habeas corpus in Pollack's behalf was obtained.

He vigorously opposed the League of Nations and in 1919 prepared special articles for newspapers criticizing any plan which might involve the United States in European affairs.

Judge Krum was noted for his irony, and it was said of him that the few cases he lost he simply "laughed away." In the naturalization fraud cases in the Federal Court 15 years ago, in which most of the Government witnesses were Italians, he provoked the laughter of everyone in the courtroom including the dignified Judge himself by addressing the witnesses as "spaghetti" and "macaroni."

Father First Mayor of Alton.
His father, John M. Krum, bore the title of Judge and was the first Mayor of Alton, later serving a term as Mayor of St. Louis, and his maternal grandfather was Chester Harding, a well-known portrait painter.

Mrs. Krum died May 19, 1920, from nephritis. Four children survive. They are Mrs. Thomas G. Dix and Miss Elizabeth Krum, who reside at the Chamberlain avenue address, and Mrs. Chester Harding, wife of Brigadier-General Harding, former Governor of the Panama Canal, living at Vineyard Haven, Mass., and Mrs. J. M. Lassell of Whitesville, Mass.

The body was taken to undertaker rooms at 2835 Olive street.

Chicagoans Arrested as Out-growth of Diploma Inquiry.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Following the arrest in St. Louis and Kansas City of four men alleged to have been involved in issuance of spurious medical diplomas, subpoenas duces tecum were issued by the State Attorney's office here today against three persons, whose names are said to have been found on papers seized at Dr. Robert Adcox's home in St. Louis. The subpoenas are against Dr. Peter J. Kopyonski, a chiropractor; Dr. Anne Hershey Abell, an osteopath, and P. C. Hughes, an insurance agent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19.—Dr. E. P. North of St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Board of Health, announced here today, after an inspection of Health Department records, that he had gathered enough evidence to indicate that frauds will be uncovered when a statewide survey of doctors' credentials is begun.

He conferred with Health Commissioner Enloe and went through a number of credentials which are on file with the department. Among them were the paper submitted by Dr. Ralph A. Voigt of Kansas City, one of the doctors under arrest, in connection with the sale of a bogus medical diploma.

Dr. North stated that Voigt's name will be one of the names cited by the Board of Health for rigorous examination.

POLICE AND KLANSMEN CLASH AT INITIATION

Two Arrested Following Attempt of Officials to Investigate Motorists' Complaints.

By the Associated Press.
LOCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Two men are under arrest as the result of a clash today between police and Deputy Sheriffs and an initiation party of Ku Klux Klansmen near Cambria Center.

Those under arrest are William Lezier and Charles Turver, both of Niagara Falls. Thirteen others, including one woman, were questioned at the District Attorney's office, but were not held. Lezier and Turver were held on an open charge.

Sheriff Benjamin Gould received reports from motorists late last night that armed men, garbed in white, were stopping automobile parties on the Saunders settlement road. The Sheriff, with two deputies and three lockport policemen, investigated. When their car reached the vicinity of a field in which a Klan initiation was said to be taking place, it was stopped by two white-robed sentinels.

According to the officers, when the Sheriff's party failed to leave as ordered, one of them was struck by a Klan guard. The sentinel was killed with the butt of a revolver in the hands of one of the investigating party.

Shouts of the guards attracted klansmen from the field and as the Sheriff started to advance toward the enclosure, the little knot of officers was surrounded. Gould and his men retreated toward the road and made a dash for their car. As the machine sped away a scattering volley of shots broke out. No one was hit.

After the Sheriff's party had broken free and his car edged its way through the machines at the roadside, some of which had started in pursuit, he rushed to Lockport with Lezier and Turver, who were seized in the melee.

The prisoners were locked up and the Sheriff returned to the scene with reinforcements. Several automobiles loads of citizens followed. Arriving at the field the second time, the officers charged the crowd at once. The resistance broke and there was a concerted rush for the cars surrounding the machine. RICKSTER OUTDOES
"SPIRIT" MEDIUM
Magician Produces Writing on Card, Woman Fails to Get Message.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The trickery of a skilled magician yesterday outdid the best efforts of the "spirits" of another world. While Mrs. Josie K. Stewart, medium from Cleveland, was exhorting the spirits of the departed for a message without success, Joseph Dunninger, admitted trickster, was demonstrating how he could get mysterious writing by material means.
Mrs. Stewart appeared in her full regalia before the sub-committee of the Scientific American. Her first three had failed to produce results. Her fourth had brought five messages in heliograph writing and had impressed the scientists. Her fifth was a failure. She will depart for Cleveland today with the question of her chance for the $2500 prize offered by the magazine still undetermined. The report of the investigators will be made tomorrow.
While she was trying to bring the spirits to earth in the library of the magazine, Dunninger was conducting a demonstration in the laboratory of a rival magazine, Science and Invention. He sought to show that the results achieved by Mrs. Stewart at the home of Ned Bayburn, in Bayville, L. I., could be reproduced by natural means. He tried to explain what method he used to accomplish his tricks at Bayburn. He said they were only the tricks of a human skilled in the art of deception.
There was only one trick of Dunninger that could be compared with the conditions under which Mrs. Stewart obtained mysterious written messages. In this a newspaperman handed him five blank pieces of cardboard, which she had thought Dunninger had them in his hands only a few seconds while he talked. Then he laid five pieces of the plain board table. Dunninger stepped back from the table and asked the woman to point to one which she wished the writing to appear. He turned up the four here one by one and showed they were still blank. Then he flipped over the fifth—the one she had chosen—and on its back was written in red ink in a scrawling hand writing: "How did this get here?" The roomful of reporters failed to serve any substitution of cards or chalky.
"All such messages are the result of tricks such as these," he said. "If I were given the chance could produce the same results Mrs. Stewart under the same conditions. There are no spirit messages. They're all clever fakes."

100 U. S. Ships to Load Sugar.
the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—More than 100 of the Shipping Board's vessels will be placed temporarily in the West Indian sugar trade under a plan approved today. The agreement is expected to begin about Oct. 25 and to continue until the expiration of the annual crop destined for the United States, estimated at 100,000 tons, has been transported. Cargo bookings for the service will be handled by managing agents who have been active in the sugar trade.

The 50th birthday of the foremost institution for women directed by a woman

THE WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION celebrates today fifty years of influence in American life.

THE Fiftieth Anniversary Number of the COMPANION is now on the newsstands and in the mails.

DURING forty-five of its fifty years, the COMPANION showed a steady growth, reaching a circulation of more than a million. During the past five years, it has showed a phenomenal growth; gaining more readers than any other woman's magazine.

When a national institution has lived so long and grown so greatly, it is fitting to pause and inquire: "What is the reason for its influence?" and "What is the promise for its future?"

The answers to these questions can be put into three brief paragraphs:

1 The COMPANION is the largest and most important institution for women directed by a woman. It has great fiction and important articles — as do other periodicals. But it has another quality of its own: an instinctive understanding of what women think and need, and a practical answer to their problems such as only a woman of genius can give.

2 The COMPANION inspires and builds; it never scolds. You have only to turn the pages of the Anniversary Number to realize how great a magnet is this editorial ideal. Every page says: "This is a way to larger thinking and being." No page says: "These are your short-comings; herein you fail."

3 The COMPANION is built by women out of women's lives. No other woman in the world receives such mail as does the editor of the COMPANION. No other vast group of women give so freely of their own experience for mutual help as do COMPANION readers. The word "magazine" or "journal" is too narrow; "institution" is the only fitting word — a university in which all are teachers, and life the teacher of all.

WE commend the Fiftieth Anniversary Number to the millions of American women who care for sincerity, for practical idealism and for solid worth. It contains John Galsworthy, Margaret Deland and other great features — and that extra something which the instinct of a woman gives, and to which women instinctively respond.

GARDNER IN APPEAL FOR RURAL FAVOR

Former Governor, in Speech, Advocates Measures Calculated to Draw Country Support.

Former Gov. Gardner, for whose endorsement by Missouri Democrats for the nomination for the Presidency in 1924 a campaign was started several months ago, last night in a speech before the Credit Men's Association at the City Club appealed for favor in the rural sections of the State. He advocated a number of ideas which would be calculated to draw support to him outside the larger cities. These were:

Use of the Army and Navy in the enforcement of prohibition.

Lower freight rates on farm products.

Reduction of taxes on farm lands one-third by reducing assessments that amount.

A tax on the owners of the more than 400,000 automobile owners of 2 cents per gallon on gasoline. He estimated this would produce $6,000,000 annually, of which he proposed to set aside $1,000,000 for rural schools, $2,000,000 for road maintenance and $3,000,000 to pay the principal and interest on an additional bond issue of $60,000,000 to complete the State road system.

Farmers' co-operative organizations.

Other Recommendations.

His recommendations along lines other than those of peculiar interest to farmers were:

Liberalization of the Federal Reserve Act.

Cheaper transportation.

Reduction of Federal rates.

Stopping of Federal infringement on States' rights.

More liberal support of weaker railroads by the stronger through a more liberal division of rates.

A national soldiers' bonus through the issuance of bonds against the British debts to the United States of approximately $4,500,000,000.

A settled foreign policy which will assist in settling conditions in Europe to the end that foreign markets may be opened to the farmers and business interests of the United States.

Subject of Speech.

The subject of Gardner's speech was: "Business and Politics—Will They Mix?" He advocated a larger interest in politics by business men, contending that the theory of the Government was management through political parties.

He did not discuss the merits of the prohibition question, contenting himself with saying that it was the law and it should be enforced even to the extent of using the military power of the country.

The former Governor frequently has been urged to become a candidate for Governor, and while he has made no public announcement of his intentions, intimate personal friends who have talked with him have said he had stated positively he would not be a candidate.

It is said he has his attention directed toward obtaining an instruction to the Missouri delegation to the next Democratic national convention for him for President. In some quarters he is looked upon as a probable candidate for the nomination for United States Senator in 1926.

OKLAHOMA CITY BEGINS REPAIR WORK, WITH FLOOD RECEDING

Lines of Communication Being Restored to Isolated Localities. Public Utilities Getting Into Service.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 19.

—With six persons known to be dead, several missing and damage to property estimated in the millions, Oklahoma today watched a recession in flood waters which have inundated many sections of the State for nearly a week.

In an effort to resume train service by the end of the week, the railroads which suffered damage have dispatched working crews to repair the bridges and miles of track destroyed by the torrent. Lines of communication are being restored to numerous localities isolated by the flood, and public utilities are restoring service.

Scores of acres of lowlands in the central and eastern parts of the State still are covered with water.

2 MEN, ENTOMBED IN UTAH MINE 56 HOURS, RESCUED

Bodies of Two Others Located Under Pile of Stones and Timber.

By the Associated Press.

BINGHAM, Utah, Oct. 19.—Superintendent Joseph Norden and Jose Ratalaza were rescued from the Utah-Apex mine last night, after being entombed for 56 hours. The bodies of two others were located in the rock pile near the place where Norden and Ratalaza were rescued, but because of the enormous pile of stones and timber it was impossible to identify them. One man is still unaccounted for. The body of Dan Eden, the foreman, was removed.

Neither of the two men were hurt. They attributed their good fortune to an especially strong set of timbers which were directly above them when the crash came. The relief party is striving to extricate the other two bodies.

Action to Be Taken in Cases of Unqualified and Unlicensed Practitioners in All Parts of State.

HEALTH BOARD HEAD LEADING IN MOVE

Connecticut and Arkansas Short Cuts Into Practice Described by Medical Association Journal.

Dr. Emmett P. North, president of the Missouri State Board of Health, and head of the State Board of Medical Examiners, said today that he intended to confer with Health Commissioner Starkloff of St. Louis and Health Commissioner Bullock of Kansas City, preliminary to a general move against unqualified or unlicensed practitioners, and those guilty of malpractice.

Dr. North said information would be filed with county prosecuting attorneys against all physicians, in any part of the State, found to be practicing without the required qualifications.

"I do not believe," he said, "that we shall find anyone practicing in this State with a State Board license obtained by means of a bogus or unearned diploma."

"Diplomas of this sort have been issued, but their holders are practicing in other States, if anywhere. We have in many cases prevented them from getting back into this State."

Unlicensed Practitioners.
Dr. North holds, however, that there are many persons practicing medicine without a State Board license, particularly in Kansas City. These unlicensed practitioners may have bogus diplomas or none at all. If found to be practicing without qualifications, they are subject to prosecution.

The Connecticut short cut into medical practice, which has figured in the present investigation, and a similar short cut leading through Arkansas, are described in an editorial article appearing in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, published in Chicago.

The Missouri State Board of Health does not maintain reciprocal relations with Connecticut or Arkansas in the admission of practitioners, so that this is not one of the States where those taking the "short cut" could legally enter upon practice without a satisfactory showing of qualifications.

Editorial Article.
The Journal, in its editorial article, said:

"Two glaring instances in which the people are not protected are found in Connecticut and Arkansas. In these States, though reasonably high standards are enforced by the regular medical boards, an open door for those with inferior qualifications is provided, by separate boards of eclectic medical examiners."

"In Connecticut last year the eclectic board licensed 79 physicians, 29 of whom graduated from low-grade medical colleges, and for 18 no data are found in the official files of medical colleges to show that they graduated anywhere. The eclectic board not only examined the graduates of eclectic schools, but evidently admitted all others who applied, the Connecticut law to the contrary notwithstanding."

"Of the 79 licensed, 29 were graduates who supposedly should have applied to the regular medical board. This group included 11 who graduated from the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons, four from the Kansas City University of Physicians and Surgeons, and one from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Boston, all of which are nominally regular medical schools and are reported as not recognized by the Connecticut (Regular) Medical Board and by the licensing boards of 46 other States."

Arkansas Situation.
"In Arkansas, out of 18 candidates licensed by the eclectic board, 17 were graduates of low-grade medical schools. Fourteen of these were from the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery, a nominally eclectic institution, reported not recognized by the licensing boards of 12 States. It is high time Connecticut and Arkansas should be closed."

INFORMATION TO BE FILED AGAINST "IRREGULAR" M. D.'S

Deut and Arkansas abolished these schools boards, which are making them a literal dumping ground for graduates of the inferior medical schools.

"A table shows that California licensed 405 graduates of low-grade medical colleges, the largest number licensed in any State, during the last six years. The next largest numbers licensed were 177 in Illinois, 150 in Arkansas, 149 in Connecticut, 146 in Massachusetts, 141 in Missouri and 120 in Colorado. In Missouri, the number of such graduates licensed during the last four years greatly diminished, and, fortunately, the word "reputable" has recently been restored to the medical practice act, so that these small numbers may be still further reduced."

The St. Louis Medical Society, last February, considered the question of the qualifications of students entering medical colleges, and the reason for the failure of many graduates of the medical schools to pass the State Board's examination for a physician's license.

A resolution, considered at that time, stated that a large percentage of those applying for permission to take the State board's examination are refused, and that of those permitted to take the examination, a large proportion fails to pass. The rejections of the students, it is stated, are due to their inability to show the minimum preliminary educational qualifications required.

This was held to indicate that students were being permitted to enter some medical schools without sufficient educational qualifications, and without being made to understand that they would be unable, for that reason, to qualify before the State board. It was requested that all medical colleges have their students certify through the Board of Health, before matriculation rather than after graduation, that they qualified as to the minimum educational requirements. The Hospital Commissioner of St. Louis was also requested to make rules to keep qualified students from attending clinics at the institutions under his control.

AVIATOR TO DROP 2000 FEET IN GLIDER FROM DIRIGIBLE

Navy Planes That Took Part in St. Louis Race to Appear at Mitchell Field Carnival.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Mitchell Field is awaiting a thrill at its air carnival Sunday, when Lieut. Melvin E. Asp, U. S. A., will cut the strands connecting his 200-pound glider from the baby dirigible TC-1 and land from an altitude of 2000 feet. The stunt is regarded as particularly dangerous due to possibility of a tail spin and Lieut. Asp obtained permission only yesterday when he flew to Washington and visited the chief of air service. Lieut. Asp's drop will be simultaneous with a parachute jump to be made by Lieut. M. L. Elliott from the dirigible. A landing site has been chalked off for which the two pilots will jockey. To make sure of satisfying the stunt ardent of the crowd, the drops will be preceded by wing-walking by a civilian. One hundred airplanes and several dirigibles, including the Shenandoah, formerly the ZR-1 will participate in the exhibition for the benefit of the army relief fund. The planes range from gliders and the 20-foot Sperry messenger to the navy Curtiss planes which averaged 243 miles an hour in the St. Louis races for the Pulitzer trophy. Lieut. Williams and Brew who finished first and second in the trophy race, will take part.

Points to Remember when making Investments

1—The primary thought should be Safety—absolute security. Some investors, for the sake of a slightly higher rate, more than is consistent with safety, place the entire principal at hazard.

2—Avoid securities of a speculative nature. A single poor investment may cause more loss than the yield of a dozen good investments.

The First Mortgage Real Estate Notes

we offer are non-speculative, non-fluctuating, and combine an excellent rate of interest with absolute security and the maximum of convenience.

REALTY EXCHANGE FOR NEW "FAIR" ZONE LAW

Body Adopts Resolution Declares Act Declared Invalid Worked Hardships.

The St. Louis Real Estate Exchange yesterday adopted a resolution expressing regret that the State Supreme Court had held the present city zoning ordinance to be invalid, and urging the preparation of a new zoning law which would be "fair and equitable."

The resolution explained that the present law, though good in many respects, had in the opinion of real estate men imposed certain hardships on property owners and had prevented the erection of many buildings here.

Willingness to co-operate in formulation of such a law was expressed and the public was reminded that the Exchange always has favored the principle of zoning.

The resolution stated that the Exchange "recognizes the difficulties of the City Plan Commission in the fixing of the classifications as well as in the adjustment of the complaints presented by property owners seeking relief from the restriction imposed," but declares that, nevertheless, "the present ordinance has caused great financial loss to property owners without adequate compensation."

Live-stock Inquiry at Kansas City. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Inquiry into charges of unfair and discriminatory practices by old line live-stock commission agencies and dealers in live stock at Kansas City has been ordered by Secretary Wallace to begin October 23, at Kansas City. Two co-operative live-stock commission organizations complained that these agencies and dealers were refusing to enter into any business relations with them. The inquiry is for the purpose of determining whether the Packers and Stockyards Act has been violated.

T. H. LOVELACE APPOINTED AS EFFICIENCY BOARD MEMBER

Named by Mayor Kiel to Succeed Harry G. Clymer, Who Has Resigned.

Thomas H. Lovelace of 5451 Delmar boulevard, who is in the bonding business, has been appointed by Mayor Kiel as a member of the Efficiency Board at a salary of $2000 a year to succeed Harry G. Clymer, who had been a member of the board since August, 1914.

Clymer resigned yesterday because he is the architect for the Police Department's garage and could not hold both positions. Lovelace as a member will be required to attend a meeting of the board about once a week. He formerly was assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

LEAVENWORTH PRISON BUREAU REMOVED TO WASHINGTON

A. J. Renoe, Head of Identification System, to Work Under Consolidation Plan.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 19.—Preparations were being made at the United States penitentiary here to transfer the Bureau of Criminal Identification from the prison to Washington, where it will be consolidated with the Bureau of Investigation. A. J. Renoe, head of the Leavenworth bureau, will go to Washington. Renoe is known as one of the greatest finger-print experts in the country. He has been head of the bureau here since 1913. The consolidation of the Identification Bureau with the Investigation Bureau, of which William J. Burns is the head, means the formation of a bureau of international scope, according to authorities. Records of law breakers from all sections of the world will be kept at the bureau, making it possible to identify any known criminal. The new bureau will be the largest in the world.

ROBBER BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN WOUNDED

Police Interrupt and Fire on Negro Safe Cracksmen in Oil Filling Station.

A negro safe cracksmen is believed by the police to have been wounded by one of a series of shots fired at him in a chase from a Standard Oil filling station at Leffingwell avenue and Washington boulevard by Lieut. Walton and a squad of detectives at 4 a. m. today. A woman in the neighborhood where the negro disappeared, a block from the oil station, told policemen she had heard the negro exclaim, "I'm shot," as he limped away. The lieutenant and detectives were riding in a department automobile when they saw a form in the oil station and got out to investigate. The negro fled as they approached. He ran east in Washington and thence into an alley after dodging behind and in and out of billboards. Twelve shots were fired at him by the police. At the oil station the police found the safe overturned. The combination and hinges had been knocked off with a 16-inch wrench left in the place together with a screw driver. Falling in this way to get the doors open, the negro had apparently turned the safe over in an effort to knock in or cut out the bottom. A window had been forced. Cracksmen in the office of the Brachgar Truck Service Co., 421 South Theresa avenue, knocked off the combination and handle from a safe, but failed to open the inner doors, last night.

Dies Trying to Save Son in Fire.
ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 18.—Luther Gates and his son, Harry, were burned to death yesterday when their home, near Saxton, was destroyed by fire. The father died while attempting to rescue the boy. When he discovered the house afire and the stairway blocked by flames, Gates threw his wife, their three youngest children and his father-in-law from a second story window.

WEBB AND DR. MEYER TESTIFY BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Husband Expected to Be Questioned Again Today in Case of Woman's Death.

By the Associated Press. WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Charles Webb, husband of Gertrude Gorman Webb, whose death recently was called "mysterious," appeared before the grand jury yesterday for the first time to tell his story of the case. He is expected to testify again today, after which the investigation probably will end.

Dr. William J. Meyer, who attended Mrs. Webb, in her last illness, and who refused to sign a death certificate also was heard again yesterday as was William T. Hunter, Mrs. Webb's uncle. Both Dr. Meyer and Mr. Webb were required to sign waivers of immunity before they testified.

Webb, who was the last witness called, carried a brief case in which he said were letters and other papers that would convince the jurors his married life had been "nothing but tranquil."

Dr. Meyer, it was understood, presented affidavits from the two nurses who cared for Mrs. Webb, declaring no poison of the sort suspected of having caused Mrs. Webb's death, was in the sick room.

Nov. 13 has been set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as the tentative date for the resumption of its hearings in the case and Chairman Reed announced that he has asked that the further hearings be held at Kansas City, where they were terminated last March.

$500,000 FRAUD CHARGED

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 19.—Charged with defrauding stockholders of the United Coal Mines, Inc., in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia out of amounts totaling approximately $500,000, Edward F. Gerber and William H. Funston Jr., directors of the concern, were arrested here and held under $5000 bond each.

Sues Clara Kimball Young. By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—Clara Kimball Young, motion picture actress, has been named defendant in a suit filed in the Superior Court by Robert M. Brownson, a Michigan attorney, who seeks recovery of $62,196 he asserts is due him for legal services rendered under a contract entered into in 1917.

APPROVAL VOTED OF THREE BOND ISSUE PROJECTS

Committee Passes on Feeble-Minded School, Koch Hospital and Motor Fire Apparatus Ordinances.

TOTAL OF $160,250
IS APPROPRIATED

Necessity of Expert Advice Other Than That of City Officials Emphasized in the Discussions.

The Citizens' Supervisory Board Issue Committee yesterday approved ordinances appropriating $43,250 for construction of a system of road and pavements at the St. Louis Training School for Feeble-Minded; $55,000 for a building for work on an employee at Koch Hospital, and $30,000 for purchase of motor apparatus for the Fire Department.

Carl F. G. Meyer, chairman of the Public Welfare Committee, in reporting favorably on the ordinance for the feeble-minded farm and the women employees' building at Koch Hospital, pointed out the necessity of the committee having the advice of experts other than city officials to determine whether the appropriation requested and the materials specified in the ordinance drafted by city officials were proper.

Voted Without Getting Answer. Meyer said it was explained to him by the Director of Public Welfare, C. H. Connelley, that the building at Koch Hospital, which is to be constructed, that concrete road and pavements would be laid at the feeble-minded farm. He said the members of his committee, without the advice of an engineer, could not determine whether or not that type of material was the best to be used or whether the appropriation requested was reasonable for the work.

Harry Scullin, vice chairman of the committee, asked Meyer if he knew the number of lineal feet of roads and pavements to be constructed. Scullin said, "I have some knowledge of the cost of construction of roads, and I believe other members of the committee have and could estimate it if we had information of the amount of work to be done."

No answer was given by Meyer, yet all the members of the committee, including Scullin, voted favorably on the recommendation of Meyer's committee to approve the ordinance.

Architects to Aid Committee. W. Frank Carter, chairman of the General Committee, stated that he had been informed by the American Institute of Architects that it would furnish one of its members to aid the committee and he believed, on the request of the committee, the Engineers' Club would extend the same courtesy to the board and the other Mayor Kiel, when he appointed the members of the Supervisory Committee, to appoint an engineer as one of its members, but the Mayor did not think it advisable.

An ordinance has been prepared at the request of the committee, and approved by the Comptroller, to appropriate $10,000 out of bond issue funds for expert advice.

O. J. McCawley, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, reported favorably on the $30,000 appropriation for motor equipment for the Fire Department, provided that before the equipment was purchased the city officials submit specifications for the equipment to the committee for approval.

Nine Autos for Assistant Chiefs. The ordinance calls for the purchase of one motor pumping engine, one service hook and ladder truck and nine Assistant Chiefs' runabouts, without specifying make of equipment. Jesse D. Burks, Director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, in a letter to McCawley, requested the committee not to approve any appropriation for the purchase of new motor equipment for the Fire Department until such time as equipment now on hand in the repair shop, which he said was worth $80,000 and could be repaired by the purchase of new motors at a cost of $20,000, was put into service.

McCawley said he and the other members of his committee did not believe it was within the jurisdiction of the committee to pass upon the feasibility of repairing old equipment in the Fire Department not purchased out of the funds of the bond issue. He said the bond issue directed that $772,500 be expended for the erection of new fire houses and the purchase of motorized equipment.

Carter's Viewpoint. Carter said it was his view that the bond issue ordinance was not mandatory and that the amount of money set aside for each item need not be spent, but that the vote of the people set up a credit for the various purposes specified in the bond issue ordinance and the com-

Zoning Law Drawbacks.

THE article relating to "Zoning Districts" and injuries resulting from them, written by Mr. Charles J. Young and printed in tonight's edition under "Letters From the People," was certainly to the point.

The same conditions prevail on the South Side, as the unsuitable vacant lots on the corners of residence sections along Grand boulevard prove. If these sections now restricted and in Class A would be placed in Class B—assuming that this could be done—these sites would be sold immediately. The owners would build fine flats or apartments, which would certainly be an improvement on the long line of more or less attractive "For Sale" signs by various real estate companies, displayed for the past 25 years. The owners would then get a better return on their investment than by using "restricted" property.

My husband and I built a home in a restricted section 20 years ago, being advised then that values would be "kept up," etc. Now that the children are married and live in other cities, my husband having died some time ago, I decided to sell, since the restrictive laws force me to occupy the house alone. Of course, I am told I can "get around" it, but I could afford to lose half of the savings I invested in my home. I would not like to realize enough to buy something as good in an unrestricted neighborhood. I was offered $11,000 for property that could not be duplicated for $22,000, or ground valued at $100 per foot. When you want to sell, the owner would like to see you to buy in such a section tell you that you will have to "sacrifice" because people with practical foresight won't pay more than about half value for property "you can't do anything with." It is a real loss, whether labeled A or not.

Many owners, realizing the situation when flats were built in an adjoining block on the same street, but were arbitrarily prohibited on their side, a few years ago at a loss. To sell now means a double loss, because you lose when selling and only get half value when buying in a B class section because property rose in value in time.

So, since I have some means, I have lived alone in a 14-room house when I would have preferred sharing it with a refined family. If I don't like this or can't afford it longer I must leave my home to which I, an elderly lady, have become attached, all because of a restrictive law that is violated quietly by many of those loudly boasting it.

A zoning law to prevent nuisances is necessary, but 20 years after a district is laid out it ought to become B class automatically, perhaps sooner. The quiet character is better maintained by a "flat dwellers" than by those who class flats as "running down" a district. The zoning law certainly needs to be greatly modified.

A TAXPAYER.

Let France Be Reasonable.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 IN your issue of Oct. 1 you publish, under Paris date line, a cable with reference to the cancellation of debts owed by France to this country. The argument of De Jouvenel in the analysis is that Germany must pay 30,000,000,000 marks to repair the devastation of Europe, but if the allies pay the United States what they owe, then Germany must pay 40,000,000,000 marks, which De Jouvenel seems to consider an impossibility. Fastening for a minute the rather obvious fact that the attitude of France up to this time has been that Germany can pay any amount of reparations which France cares to quote, one is constrained to wonder by what sort of reasoning France assumed that it is only the earning power of Germany which should be taxed to pay the debts of France. Has it ever occurred to him that it is just possible that France herself might contribute something toward the payment of her own debt? France by her obstinacy almost succeeded in defeating the disarmament program of President Harding; France is now a menace to the peace of Europe because of the untold wealth which she is pouring into her air armament program. To divert a small portion of this vast expenditure would enable her to reduce materially the debt which she owes.

Now will the relations between the countries be improved by the manner which De Jouvenel has for America's contribution in man power and material in the late war. Admitting for the moment that America was fighting her own war, America paid her own way. America paid England for transports to carry American soldiers to the British front. America paid France for the rent of cantonments occupied by American soldiers defending French soil. De Jouvenel says although fighting side by side against the same enemies, America was fighting her own war. If that be true, then Britain and France were fighting their own war and should pay their own debts. Great Britain, demonstrating the propriety of the adjective "Great" in its name, takes that attitude and pays. France undertakes by specious but unsound arguments to avoid her debts. PUBLICUS.

LOYD GEORGE'S MESSAGE.

Mr. Lloyd George, St. Louis' guest today, has disavowed any special mission in coming to America. He wished it understood, before sailing, that he was simply making a friendly call and taking occasion personally to express his gratitude for the great service which the United States rendered his country and civilization at a critical time.

This distinguished visitor, nevertheless, is performing a most important mission in urging a policy of reason, justice and world co-operation as the only means by which Europe can recover from the material and moral devastation of the World War.

In protesting the misuse of might and pleading for justice to the vanquished, not only as a matter of right but as a matter of sound policy, Lloyd George is in his best and logical role. However the exigencies may at times have colored his official acts in his after-the-war premiership he has always been the champion of liberalism. It was his hatred of imperialism, for instance, that prompted the young commoner to risk his political future by joining the opposition to the Boer War. From that same instinctive democracy came the famous budget, a few years later, that rocked tradition and made the "little Welsh attorney" anathema to the beneficiaries of ancient privilege. The liberal opinion of America which has been welcoming Lloyd George with unprecedented demonstration and striking deference recalls those earlier efforts when democracy had not achieved its present high repute and when service in its cause often meant misrepresentation and sacrifice.

Though Lloyd George is studiously and properly avoiding any appearance of instructing America as to what she should do in the present crisis, he is effectively doing it just the same. He insists that Germany should compensate France and other nations for the wrongs done them, to the best of her ability, but he bitterly opposes the subjugation of the German people and the disruption of the German nation. That is the position of enlightened opinion everywhere; emphatically it is the predominant judgment of the American people. Just how much we might have done to influence the victors to adopt this course may be debatable, but the fact remains that we chose to do nothing. And though no outsider may tell us that, in withdrawing from Europe, we missed an opportunity and shirked a duty, when we applaud and honor the proposal that Europe shall follow the path of light and reason which we all approve we are acknowledging our own sin of omission.

Mr. Lloyd George is preaching for Europe a gospel which the United States by its own practice has proved to be the true governmental faith. If there is to be enduring peace among the nations of Europe the foundation of justice must first be laid. That is the message which our guest of today has brought to America. We are responding to it sentimentally. Let us hope we shall respond to it practically before it is too late.

LEGION AND KLAN.

The resolution adopted by the Resolutions Committee of the American Legion at San Francisco, condemning "any individuals or organizations which create or force racial, religious or class strife among our people, or which take into their own hands the enforcement of law, determination of guilt, or infliction of punishment," as un-American, was aimed at the Ku Klux Klan. Not mentioning the Klan by name, it could well be adopted as expressing a sentiment entirely in accordance with the legion's principles.

It is notable that when the proposal to adopt an antiklan resolution came up before the legion's chaplains, men who had ministered to the wounded and dying at the front without religious discrimination, it was a Catholic chaplain who urged that the matter be looked at in a charitable light. A majority of the committee, however, evidently thought that the Klan deserved no such consideration. The American Legion, as the resolution says, "includes in its membership former service men of every race, creed and color." It cannot afford to appear to daily in any degree with organizations or individuals who foster race, religious or class prejudices.

The legion is for peace among the nations. And peace at home is absolutely essential to such an end.

THE VIGILANTE. (From the New York World.)

RESULTS OF STUDENTS' ARREST.

The inquiry into the arrest and illegally long detention of three Rolla students has already had results.

One result is that a new system of police station records is to be instituted which, it is hoped, will prevent other innocent suspects from suffering the humiliation experienced by those students. The practice, therefore, which Lieut. Vasey declared would be continued is not going to be continued. The public will approve of this change.

Another result, which will not meet with public approval, is the suspension of Detectives Connelly and Bourland, who made the arrest. It is not clear why those officers should be suspended. They made the arrest on what seemed to them a sufficiently suspicious circumstance, and they say they promptly notified the proper Federal official. Those officers were not guilty of holding the prisoners incommunicado and for 20 hours beyond the limit fixed by the State law. The offense in this case, as far as the public knows, is chargeable to the Police Department's system, for which those officers are not responsible.

The higher-ups of the Police Department cannot placate the public by victimizing subordinates. Such action will aggravate rather than allay public indignation. The suspended officers should have a prompt and fair hearing.

A visiting Englishman says bootlegging is our second biggest industry, not our first. But give it a chance. It's only an infant.

UNCLE SAM GOES TO SEA.

The Government has decided to quit fiddling, preaching, lamenting and deploring with the Government ship industry and to operate its own vessels on a basis of permanence. The fleet is not to be turned over to speculative bidders who assumed that the Government would give away the ships rather than operate them. It is not to be sacrificed to the complaints and propaganda of interested parties to the effect that the Government is engaging in socialism.

As a happy consequence there will be one less big business interest in politics; we shall have a merchant marine that can meet, if necessary, the competition of subsidized foreign lines; and we shall have that of which the subsidists made so great a point—a merchant auxiliary fleet to support the navy in the event of war.

The Shipping Board has found in operating a passenger service to Europe that a Government line, after all, is not such a losing or impractical venture as it has long been advertised. In fact, the experimental line has been pronounced a success. If, however, the operation of the lines becomes a source of mismanagement, corruption or loss the condition will be quickly reflected in the financial statement.

Friends of the zoning ordinance may take heart from the predicament of China, whose reactionaries oppose a republic in the belief that an Emperor's appeal to heaven are more powerful than a President's.

ON "RAZZING" THE GOLFER.

If there is anything pathetic in this tale of tears it is the unsuspecting novice who thinks there is anything playful about playing golf. A Chicagoan who made such an assumption the other day was rescued by police just in time to prevent his cranium from being used like the little white balls. The pursuing madmen declared that the offender had "razed" them about their stances when driving off, with the consequence that they had "dubbed" their drives.

The habitual golfer professes to have great fun in his game. But it is much like the fun of a knight who fights a dragon. The prospect of missing the creature and being gathered into its fiery maw is really no great pleasure, but when said dragon lies bleeding beneath the feet of the swordsman—here is real fun. Dubbing a drive is a great deal like authentic accounts of entering a dragon's throat, and the unwitting person who would shove a gladiator into such an embarrassing position might also "razz" a golfer.

The wrath of the she-pant her won its reputation before golf was waged. There is no wrath like that of a golfer "razed."

EUROPE BY LLOYD GEORGE.

JUST A MINUTE (Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)

 BY CLARK McADAMS

THE OLD WORLD.

ROME.—The people of Rome still call themselves Romans and refer to the people in Italy outside of Rome as Italians. She differs from the other cities of Europe in having these things under her feet. Her museums are full of sculpture brought over from Greece or made in Rome by Greek artists.

The Romans were like every great practical people. They wanted power and wealth, but after they got it they decided that they needed nourishment for their souls. There was a place to get it. It was Athens. If there was anything worth having in Athens that the Romans did not take to Rome it must have been because they overlooked it or could not pry it loose.

It is a fearful confession of inadequacy that one sees here—the usual inadequacy of a great business people like ourselves. We have all the things Rome had. We can match her dollar for dollar and territory for territory.

But where are we to find our Athens, and what are we to have for our souls' ease? "Maybe prohibition," Mr. Antwine said.

At which the expression on Socrates' face was the most painful thing seen in Rome since the time of Nero.

MALARIA IN AMERICA.

From the World's Work.
 THERE is one disease more dangerous to the American people than yellow fever; that is malaria. This statement probably seems surprising, yet it is true. * * * The two diseases, both transmitted by mosquitoes, and commonly associated in the popular mind; but they are very different, and this difference explains why malaria is a greater menace than its sister plague.

Yellow fever is an acute, fulminant disease; it attacks severely but its career is brief; in a few days the patient is either dead or on the road to health. But the all-important fact is that one attack confers immunity; a person who recovers from one experience almost never has another. A light attack confers this immunity as completely as a severe one. * * * In malaria, however, immunity is practically unknown; a person may have attack after attack, indeed suffer from the disease for a lifetime. Those who do not die become anemic, weak, listless, and entirely worthless members of the social organization. In the course of time a whole community is affected and civilization itself may be destroyed.

How serious a thing malaria may be has just been brought to light by an examination of the employees of the Missouri Pacific Railroad made by the United States Health Service. This report is today creating havoc in an enterprise as modern as railroad. It is the most prevalent disease with which the Missouri Pacific has to contend. Ninety-five per cent of all its hospital admissions and 45 per cent of all its sick cases are chargeable to this infection. There is a lesson in this. It is a lesson that should be taken by all railroads, especially in the Southern States, is that of co-operating with the Government in warfare upon this ever-present, most enervating of all diseases.

THE SAGE OF DEARBORN.
 From the Pittsburgh Sun.

TWO stories in the day's gist of news will make the politicians think. One is a dispatch from Detroit bearing the first comment of Henry Ford upon the action of the United States War Department in selling a part of the Muscle Shoals project to another bidder. The "sage of Dearborn" charges outright that political influences are preventing him from obtaining the great fertilization project. The second and related news story is from Omaha, where the Secretary of State announces that Henry Ford's name apparently will appear on the ballot of the Progressive party in Nebraska as a candidate for presidential nomination. The official notified Mr. Ford that he must formally withdraw his name if he does not want to appear as a candidate. The latter was acknowledged, but there was no withdrawal. Does Ford want Muscle Shoals? Does he want the presidency? If he seeks both, which is the case in his heart? It is obvious that he cannot have both. Perhaps he will get neither. But his power plant with road house and other such action would bottle up his political career for at least four years.

THE SOCIAL CODE.
 (A. S. M. Hutchinson in "If Winter Comes.")
 Convention, you know, is the most mysterious, extraordinary thing. It's a code society has built up to protect itself and to govern itself, and when you go into it it's the most marvelous code that ever was invented. All sorts of things that the law doesn't give, and couldn't give, our conventions show up on us in the most amazing way. And all probably originated by a lot of Mother Grundy-ish old women, that's what's so extraordinary.

In their application they're often unutterably wrong, cruel, hideously cruel and unjust, but when you examine them, even at their crudest, you can't help seeing that fundamentally they're absolutely right and reasonable and necessary.

Now there's a brute of a case for you: a girl gets into trouble and while she sticks to her baby she's made an outcast; every door is shut to her; her own people will have nothing to do with her; no one will take her in—so long as she's got the baby with her. That's convention, and you can imagine cases where it's cruel beyond words. But it's no good cursing society about it. You can't help seeing that the convention is fundamentally right and essential. Where on earth would you be if girls with babies could find homes as easily as girls without babies? You'd have babies pouring out all over the place. See it?

Sir: Speaking of the comma dispute, how was this one the other night?

CONVERSATION.

WHENEVER we talk, it seems to me 'tis as two played the treble key, With but the finger's lightest touch. And not accented overmuch. Our mirth, at intervals, like chimes. But quite by accident, at times. The thoughts we think when we're alone Produce a lower tone!

The Conning Tower

A QUESTION IN 1850.
 At dawn she came from watching through the night beside the children at Webster's place. And told the folks that every little face had a fever—"cause enough for 'stray' a fever."
 When down the road, his bay horse jogging light. The doctor came, quick in a moment's space. She said she'd ask him all about the case. He would do with gray old Doctor Wright.

Now, don't you go a-petticoating him. Her husband said. "He comes to this young crowd from apron-string untied." "Oh, papa!" she said. "That's just your idle whim!" She asked the kind of fever as she bowed. The doctor smiled. "A hot one!"

ARTHUR WALLACE PEACH
 "The only thing Mr. Zangwill and I agree on," sighs Mr. Nathan Straus, "is the game of gold." Mr. Straus does not specify in what particular that concord lies, but The Conning Tower imagines the minds of the men met thus: "Well," Mr. Zangwill may have said, "gold is certainly a great game; it takes you into the open air." "It certainly does," was Mr. Straus' possible reply.

Even so precise a verbalist as the Lexicographer's Easy Chair says "Leon Chevalier, whom he says wrote."

Not Angry, Not Just Terribly Hurt! the villain in the melodrama says to the maiden to the track, "I don't give a damn!" "I don't give a damn!" she leaves her on a buzz-saw rack, "use a hatchet her to hack; yet, as the blood begins to spurt, she'll murmur at each cruel-whack. Not angry. Not Just terribly hurt!"

The cross-eyed man in slap-and-slam may take his seat upon a tack. Or have his features smeared with ketchup.

Or juggle tops of brick-a-brack, or another in a flour-sack; on the screen, in neat insert, he'll read his words in white and black. Not angry. Not Just terribly hurt!"

The good wife in a twined bed may learn her spouse is strangely slack, and know she must cherish a female.

And find the keys her bedrooms lack, or order her friends to pack, though hubby plead his right to flirt. He'll only sadly answer back. Not angry. Not Just terribly hurt!"

LE'NOVOI
 Ah, Broadway, you have all my back. Privation's blow I can't avert. But am I angry at this lack? Not angry. Not Just terribly hurt!"

D. MCC.

"All women," generalizes Ethel Bellean, in "The Box of Spikenard," secretly want the world that will set their hearts on fire—and never get it. As an old fire insurance supply clerk, we object. One woman's heart may be highly inflammable, and on the insurance map it may be marked "K.O.," which is the Keep Off warning; and another may be a preferred risk of fireproof construction, equipped with automatic sprinkler system. One heart may go into unquenchable flame at the word "morning," and another may continue sparkling "all day long" and there is no life without you."

There is a law against the advertising of get-rich-quick schemes, but defiance hereby is hurled against it. Those who want to amass wealth are advised to bet that "The Follies of 1924" will not be Ziegfeld's "Follies" production; and to take even money that, in spite of Lloyd George's appeal to the churches, to save the world, they won't do it.

Music Lesson.
 Take everything—but leave a little space. Or sitting very still and listening; take our long words—Oh, take everything— The troubled mind behind the troubled face.

But leave me with my cricket horde, my swarm of tiny crooners, insect sorrowers. My song shall be as yours is, single and terse and blend with others' like a ringing storm.

Teachers, little crickets, toads and birds. You hear no meaning in these rows of words. So hear with me this evening—afternoon. I shall get the tune right—just the tune.

GENEVIEVE TAGGARD.

When the oil industry was facing a crisis many years ago, it is recalled by Henry L. Doherty that John D. Rockefeller said, "The Lord will provide." "And Mr. Rockefeller was right," said Mr. Doherty. This recalls the story of Eugene Field's little girl, who got to be Sunday school to recite her text thus: "The Lord will provide; my father can't." As luck would have it, Mr. Rockefeller, as Mr. Doherty said, was right.

MISS FRANCES FRISTOE MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT

Function at St. Louis Country Club Season's First Large Debutante Affair.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS JEN-PERSON MOSS of 20 Lanox place will give the first large debutante function of the season this evening when they will entertain 250 buds and their escorts at the St.
Louis Country Club to introduce Mr.
Moss' sister, Miss Frances Fristoe, to society. The debutante is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace Fristoe of 5257 Washington boulevard.

The spacious rooms of the club have been transformed into huge bowers of green, with walls and ceiling completely hidden by southern smilax, while similar draping on brackets and sconces will subdue the light. Dozens of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums will set the color note, and a bank of white blossoms, arranged high against a window, will form a background for the receiving line.

The debutante is to wear a white chiffon frock, made over silver cloth and embroidered in rhinestones, and will carry an armful of roses. Miss Moss' gown is of black velvet, fashioned with a low cut neck line, sleeves and with a train. It has trimmings of rhinestones. Her flowers also are to be roses.

Pink, the debutante's color, has been used in the dining room. A table in the shape of a hollow square, seating 54 guests and to be provided over by Miss Fristoe, will have pink roses for a centerpiece.
While in the center of the square, rose trees, each bearing 50 dozen pink blossoms of the same tones, with a playing fountain, will complete the garden. Small tables, seating eight, have been provided for the other guests.

A group of Mr. and Mrs. Moss' friends have been invited to assist in receiving the guests and to remain for the dancing.

Miss Fristoe is a graduate of Miss Wright's school at Bryn Mawr, Pa., and served as a maid of honor at the wedded Prophet ball.

Miss Emma Petring, daughter of George H. Petring of 4548 West Pine boulevard, will be hostess at a luncheon tomorrow afternoon at the Hotel Chase, complimentary to Miss Mary Park Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas S. Lewis, who will become the bride Tuesday of Mansur Tebbetts. The guests will be Misses Crenshaw and Elizabeth, Ella
May Uphoff, Alice Tebbetts, Susan Lewis, Mary Skeen, Helen Addington, and Misses Weston Bleck, Bernard Outten, sister of the hostess;
M. A. Stout of Oregon, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs.
Frenn.

Tonight the Misses Waller will have a bridge party for the couple tomorrow evening Mr. and Mrs. O.
L. Bleibinger will be hosts at a dinner for them at Bevo Mill; Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W.
Lewis of 12 Hortense place will have a buffet supper for them, and Monday night after rehearsal Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smiley will entertain the bridal party at a similar affair.

Wayman McCreery Allen has leased an apartment in the Van Ness, on Euclid avenue, north of Maryland, where he and his bride will make their home, following their honeymoon. The marriage of Miss Elsie McMillan, daughter of Mr. Allen, will be an important event of Nov. 17.

But the morgue and the almshouse are filled with those who said that and were wrong. And who couldn't sue suit, either.

PERHAPS
The linen on my pillow
Is of a silky thread;
But on its soothing texture,
Restless, I toss my head.

Upon some love-sick maiden's Loom has the web been spun;
Some sad-eyed girl has borne it
To whitened in the sun.

Perhaps it is her sorrow
That keeps me from my rest—
My own is deeply hidden,
'Tis safe within my breast.

Mayhap it is her trouble—
My own I have forgot—
That keeps me wan and wakeful
So late upon my cot.

TO BE MARRIED SATURDAY

MISS MARIAN STRAIN.
MISS STRAIN, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arthur Strain, will be married tomorrow evening to Edgar C. Thursby, son of Arthur P. Thursby.

Social Items

The Third Annual Field Day of Zellco Hall is the attractive name of an unusual debutante party to be given Sunday afternoon and evening, Nov. 18, by Mr. and Mrs.
Clarkson Carpenter of Ferguson.
Mrs. Zellco Hall is the name of the estate. For the past two years
Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter have entertained their friends at a field day, identical with similar events held at the schools, on a smaller scale. There will be races, jumping and weight throwing, with a prize for each, on the large side lawn of the Carpenter home, with a buffet supper at 6:30 o'clock in the house. A feature of the occasion will be the "Hundred Yard Dash Debutante Handicap." Invitations to the affair, to be sent out in a day or two, will be printed as hand bills, with a similar one enclosed containing a list of events.

Miss Marie Carr Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockland Taylor, a niece of the Carpenters, is to be honored. There will be more than 50 guests.

Mr. Louis Werner of 36 Westmoreland place will entertain about 60 guests at a dinner dance the evening of Thursday, Nov. 19, at his home, complimentary to Miss Marie Wygant of Ithaca, N. Y., who is being introduced to St. Louis society this winter by her cousin, Mrs. John Fallon Delaney. Invitations to the affair will be out in a day or two.

Of interest in St. Louis is the marriage of Miss Olivia James of Cincinnati, and William Ramsey, son of Stanley M. Ramsey, and grandson of the late Bishop Daniel Tuttle, which is to take place in Cincinnati
Oct. 27. It will be a church ceremony, in the afternoon, with a reception following at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Dorothy Hart, daughter of Mrs. James Hart of Cincinnati, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. White of 5603
Cincinnati avenue, is to be maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. Miss White, who also is a close friend of the bride, is in Cincinnati visiting Miss Hart and attending the pre-wedding festivities.

Mrs. Ramsey, mother of the bride, groom-elect, and daughter of the late Bishop Tuttle, died about six months ago.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Emma Owen Powell of Smithland, Ky., and Wheeler Webb Worten of Tawhuska, Ok., Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. E. A. Howell, 5226 Etzel avenue. The bride has resided in St. Louis a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Worten will make their home in Tawhuska.

Mrs. Ward Smith of 5322 Savoy
Court is entertaining her sister, Miss Elizabeth Martin of Johnson City, Tenn. The visitor will remain for several weeks and Mrs. Smith will entertain for her later.

ROTARY CLUB TO SUBSCRIBE TO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FUND

Vote on Matter Taken After Address by Chicagoan on Benefits of Organization.

"The calendar of St. Louis is steadily growing in color and variety," said Dr. Albert D. Allen of Chicago before the Rotary Club at Hotel Statler yesterday. "This city has claims of the same sort as those which distinguish Paris and Boston
—the Botanical Garden, the Municipal Opera and the Symphony Orchestra." He then explained that the 30 symphonies in this country, St.
Louis had the second oldest.

Allen's talk was one of several made before clubs, requesting help in the campaign, beginning Oct. 29, to raise $100,000 for the Symphony Orchestra in the next three-year period. He pointed out that Detroit and Cleveland each subscribed $250,000 a year for their orchestra. Following his address the Rotary Club voted to aid the orchestra.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club have passed resolutions promising aid to the orchestra.

"WHITE DESERT" JUST SHORT OF BEING GREAT

Play of Prairie Carries Overwhelming Emotion, but Misses Fire in Dialogue.

By HEYWOOD BROWN,
Drama Critic of the New York Morning World.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Maxwell Anderson, who seems potentially able to write a great play, has written for his first attempt an interesting one. There was hardly a moment during the performance of "White Desert" at the Princess Theater last night when we didn't think this ought to be enormously fine. But we didn't always get it.
Somewhere along the journey the play missed fire. It falls short of being a play in which a reviewer feels to calculate virtues and defects.
It seems to us that the chief reason for this is that Mr. Anderson slips too often off the very edge of true talk. He has written a play of an overwhelming emotion, an emotion which breaks down a man's rationalizing processes completely and yet we rarely get the better skelter rush of words flung out. There is none of the panic and crowding of phrases currying before the drive of feeling.

All too often we were conscious of a nicely turned line or of a piece of poetry, fine and rich in poetical concept. At such times we thought "Anderson has done that well and neatly." But of course that meant he hadn't done it well enough or he should have forgotten him and remembered one of the four or five people on the stage.

Story of North Dakota Prairie.
The story is of Michael and his wife, Mary, and Sverre Peterson, a neighbor homesteader on the North Dakota prairie. The trouble begins with Michael, who is moved on a blizzard night to begin questioning Mary as to what there has been in her life and heart before she knew him. She tells him, and although he confesses no physical wrongdoing, she admits secret lusts and longings which have swept through her thoughts. This confession destroy the sentimentalized image which Michael has created of his womanhood, and in particular of his woman. He cannot bear even to accept the disillusioning notion that Mary has been gross and human even in fantasy.

In only modest Michael curses her and calls hard names. And Mary threatens to make good his words.
Michael goes through the snow to the nearest town for provisions, and it is in a blizzard Sverre Peterson, the neighbor, comes to her shack.
Quite conscious of the fact that there is no love, Mary makes Sverre the instrument of her revenge. When Michael returns, his wife finds that she cannot keep the truth from him.

After a bitter, raging scene, he tries to drown his jealousy by reason. He sees and admits his share of responsibility for what has happened. A future can be patched out of the muddle. But then Michael hears the knock of Sverre upon the door.
That ought to be enough of the plot. It is a gorgeous dramatic moment which Anderson has marred a little by a rather clumsy handling of the details of the tragedy which follows.

Michael Not Good Enough.
To us the original jealousy of Michael is a little inefficient. We are not going to deny that jealousy frequently arises from no motives whatsoever, but if we are asked to watch closely the workings of a mind of reason, we want the mind to be interesting. Michael is not good enough.

On the other hand, Anderson has understood his woman magnificently and Sverre Peterson almost as well.
Moreover, the performance of George Abbott as Sverre is one of the finest things to be seen in the theater at the moment. We must note an exception, hereafter, in complaining about the quality of the American actors.
Abbott is the man who played the cowboy Texas so well in "Zander the Great." His role in "White Desert" is far more difficult and important, and while there are dangers in generalizing on the basis of one performance we don't quite see just what there is to prevent Abbott from doing almost anything in the theater to which he sets himself and doing it superbly.

There is good work, too, by Beth Merrill as the woman and by Ethel Wright in a smaller role. Brock Pemberton has mounted the play well, but he thinks the direction is a little lacking in vitality.

BIRKENHEAD TO VISIT HERE
TOMORROW AND MAKE ADDRESS
Member of Lloyd George's Cabinet to Speak at the Odeon Under Auspices of City Club.
The Earl of Birkenhead, otherwise Sir Frederick E. Smith, who served as Lord High Chancellor in the coalition Cabinet of Lloyd George during the war, will visit St. Louis tomorrow, arriving here at 7:27 a. m.
He will be the guest of the City Club under whose auspices he will speak at the Odeon tomorrow night on "My Twenty Years in Parliament."

In the party with him will be his daughter, Lady Eleanor Smith; his secretary, H. H. Horton, and Mr.
Allen, vice president of the Rock Island Railroad. They will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McDonald, 24 Washington terrace.
Lord Birkenhead is a great admirer of his former colleague, Lloyd George, who is in the city today. He has predicted that Lloyd George will again be a dominant factor in British politics. Among the topics which will be discussed are prohibition, the League of Nations and the World Court, the Irish Free State, and the political leaders of England.

Charles M. Polk will be host at a luncheon for the Earl of Birkenhead at the St. Louis Country Club at noon tomorrow. Lady Eleanor will be similarly entertained by Miss Catherine Lou Cruden and the younger society will be entertained by the Mc-Donald residence, followed by dinner at the home of Chancellor Herbert S. Hadley of Washington University.

SAYS AMERICAN SCHOOLS ARE "FRIGHTFULLY UNDEMOCRATIC"

Columbia U. Professor Says Making Pupils Take Higher Algebra Is Cruelty.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 19.—American schools are "frightfully undemocratic," Dr. David Snedden, former commissioner of education in Massachusetts and professor of vocational education at Columbia University, told 4300 delegates to the forty-ninth convention of the Colorado Educational Association, in session here.

"Untold cruelty," he asserted, "has been inflicted on many pupils in high schools by enforced teaching of higher algebra, and no uniform effort has been exercised to execute a spirit of democracy." Snedden declared, "Under our inflexible system, those mentally unfit to take up the study of algebra and other subjects are required to do so. This constitutes nothing more or less than educational slavery."

ITALIAN ORGANIST KINOLDS ENTHUSIASM OF AUDIENCE
Pietro Yon, in Recital at Third Baptist Church, Is Eloquent Apostle for Instrument.

Pietro Yon, Italian composer, honorary organist at the Vatican and organist at St. Francis Xavier's catholic Church, New York, gave a recital at the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards, last night. There was a capacity audience. The recital was under the auspices of the Missouri Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Signor Yon plays with a fire that kindles the enthusiasm of his audience, and occasionally with specu-lar gestures. His program was made up wholly of organ music, without a single adaptation of an orchestral or operatic piece. In the wide range of type, and in the contrasts between the soft chimes of the echo organ and the tremendous climaxes of his own romantic sonata, his concert study, and the Bach fugue in D major, he was an eloquent apostle for his instrument.

The recital was the occasion of the first public performance on any organ of Skilton's "Indian Rhapsody," based on Indian themes and suggestive of the life of the listener heard the rising chant that accompanied the ghost dance and the serenade on a lover's flute.

Signor Yon played his own "Italian Rhapsody," which has the fire of an Italian opera and in its melodies, its dash, and its runs suggests both a coloratura soprano and a rousing chorus. He also played his "Infant Jesus" and Bossi's appealing "Ave Maria."

Zangwill Says Good Pictures Do Not Need Explanatory Matter.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Motion pictures should be presented without subtitles, Israel Zangwill, playwright and poet, last night said before the Council of Jewish Women.
He declared that having explanatory matter on the screen was ridiculous; that a good film did not need it.
Mr. Zangwill said that next to broadcasting, the motion picture was the greatest thing ever invented, although his opinion of the motion picture as now produced was very low.

YOUTH IS KILLED REMOVING WIRE TO PROTECT OTHERS

Thomas Grey, 21, of Ferguson, Hit by Wire After Severing It With a Blow
From Ax.

Thomas Grey Jr., 21 years old, of Ferguson, lost his life yesterday when he tried to remove a fallen electric light wire that was a menace to life.

The wire was sagging in front of the Grey home on Wesley avenue in a manner to come in contact with passersby. Grey told his mother, Mrs. Eliza Grey, he was going to cut it and tie the ends to a pole. He procured an ax and wrapped an automobile inner tube about the handle to avoid receiving a shock.

His mother, standing at the window, saw him sever the wire with a blow of the ax. One of the ends, however, coiled about his hand, searing the flesh and sending a fatal voltage through his body. He was dead when neighbors came and knocked the wire away from its contact with his hand.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned.

POLICE, LOCKED OUT BY WOMAN, BREAK DOWN DOOR IN RAID

Armed With Search Warrant, They Seize Evidence in Living Quarters of Saloonkeeper.

Policemen broke through a door to get into the living apartments of Joseph McKnight, 31 years old, of 1211A South Broadway, yesterday, when Mrs. McKnight locked the doors and refused them admission after they had searched the saloon on the first floor on a State search warrant. Mrs. McKnight, they reported, was pouring whisky from a bucket into the kitchen sink when they forced the door into the living quarters.

The saloon is conducted, they reported, by McKnight. It was in charge of Fred Hoffman, a bartender, when police entered. They reported Hoffman poured a glass of supposed whisky into the rinse water as they entered. A few drops remaining in the glass were seized.
Proceeding to the McKnight living quarters, police found the doors locked and when Mrs. McKnight refused to open them they broke down the door. Two empty large crocks and a five-gallon jug were found in the living quarters. Some of the supposed whisky in the bucket was seized. McKnight and Hoffman were arrested. Captain Kirk of the Soulard street station was in charge of the raiders.

Louis J. Giovanoni, 41, of 1103
South Sixth street, an expressman, was arrested at his home last night after, police reported, a 14-year-old boy had reported purchasing a half-pint of so-called whisky from Gio-vanoni for 60 cents. The mother of the boy told the police Giovanoni had been selling liquor to boys for some time. The 50 cents given the boy was marked and it was found in Giovanoni's pocket when arrested, police reported.

CHILDREN RECONCILE COUPLE

Frederick Neustadt, After Two Days Trial, Drops Divorce Suit.

Urged by their seven children to become reconciled, Frederick Neustadt, 58 years old, a farmer, of Riverview Gardens, St. Louis County, withdrew his divorce petition against his wife, Annie, 53, yesterday afternoon in Judge McElhinney's court in Clayton. The couple, surrounded by their children, then went to their home.

The case has been on trial since Tuesday. Mrs. Neustadt had filed a cross-bill, alleging that her husband had forced her to work in the fields and had drunk to excess. The children, four of whom are over 21, appeared in the courtroom yesterday and pleaded for a reconciliation.
The Neustadts had been married 23 years.

FORMER DIPLOMAT DIVORCED

Wife of Sumner Welles Gains Decree on Abandonment Charge.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 19.—Esther Slater Welles has been granted a divorce here from Sumner Welles, whom she married in April, 1915, at Webster, Mass. The grounds were abandonment and refusal to live with the wife. Welles was formerly secretary of the American legation at Tokio and later chief of the division of the Latin-American affairs of the American State Department.

TWO ST. LOUIS LUMBER FIRMS PAY THEIR FINES

Checks of $10,000 and $5000 Tended by Boeckler and Ganahl Companies.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19.—The Boeckler Lumber Co. and the Ganahl Lumber Co. of St. Louis today tendered to the Supreme Court checks in payment of the fines imposed upon them in the recent anti-trust proceedings, which resulted in an ouster decree, later modified, against 19 St. Louis and St. Louis County companies.

Attorney W. W. Henderson, representing the companies, and Henry Boeckler, secretary of the Boeckler company, appeared in the office of Jacob L. Allen, clerk of the court, and tendered two checks, one for $10,000 in payment of the Boeckler company fine, and another for $5000, the amount of the fine imposed on the Ganahl concern. Allen accepted the checks and gave receipts for them, but informed Henderson that this payment did not release the companies, as the court's final decree in the case had not been handed down and the costs had not been assessed.

Attorney-General Barrett, when told of the payments, remarked that this did not settle the case against the two concerns. He recalled that the companies had talked of an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States and said that it was apparent that there was not complete agreement among the lumber men as to the course to be pursued.

12-STATE TRIP CONVINCES MOSES COUNTRY IS DRY IN SENTIMENT

But Senator Also Concludes That Volstead Act Is Jackass Statute.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—A "Jackass statute" was the verdict pronounced on the Volstead act by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Senatorial campaign committee, when he visited the White House today after a swing through twelve states in the East and Middle West.

Asked whether Congress would do anything about it at its coming session, Senator Moses said it depended on "whether or not the hateful eye of Wayne B. Wheeler, sitting in the congressional gallery and sweeping the floors with his eagle gaze, has lost its potency."

Requested specifically to give his opinion of the Volstead act, he replied:

"It's a jackass statute. Any law that declares butter milk to be an alcoholic beverage, of necessity, is a jackass statute."

The Senator replied as follows to a question as to prohibition enforcement in New England:

"There are more trucks crossing the Canadian boundary rolling through the valleys of New England than there ever have been trains run over the Boston and Maine railroad."

The discussion which was ranged about Gov. Pinchot's suggestion that the President declare personal supervision of prohibition enforcement and Gov. Pinchot's own efforts at enforcement also engaged the attention of Moses.

"Gov. Pinchot has endeared himself to the hardware trade with his talk of padlocks," he said. "I predict there will be a boom in that commodity."

Senator Moses concluded that he was convinced from his trip that the country was dry as to sentiment, and that Congress would act in accord with that sentiment, even though such states as Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey would vote wet if a test were made.

50,000 BIBLES BEING SENT TO THE JAPANESE

Number Said to Be Only About Tenth of Copies Lost in Recent Earthquake.

SEATTLE, Wash.—Three carloads or about 50,000 Bibles for Japan were loaded into the President Grant for shipment to the Orient. This number, it is said, is but one-tenth of the copies eventually needed to supply the wants of devotees of this book who lost all property in the earthquake disaster. Printing presses are running day and night in Eastern cities to supply the orders of the American Bible Society.

The Japanese printing plant in Yokohama where vernacular language Bibles were made was destroyed by the quake and the operating force of 700 killed or injured. He was slightly burned.

FINED $2.50 ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Illinoisan Gets Lowest Penalty Ever Assessed in U. S. Court at Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 19.—A fine of $2.50—the lowest ever assessed in Federal Court here—was imposed by Judge English yesterday on Charles McNeal of Franklin County, charged with possessing intoxicating liquor. McNeal previously had been fined in the city and county courts on the same charge.

McNeal explained to the Judge that he had only $5 and that the fare back home was $2.50. "All right," replied the Judge, "split the difference and make the fine the same."

FARM LAND VALUES HIGHER

STANWOOD, Wash.—Farm values in the far Northwest are increasing. One 318-acre tract near here sold twice in one week each time at an advance from $5000 to $10,000. There continues a heavy demand for good farm land in Washington and Oregon with buyers from Middle West states. The buyers do not care for fruit growing, but seek tillable soil for grain and livestock.

AGRICULTURAL FREAKS AT FAIR

Two Watermelons and Apples Among Curious Objects Exhibited. PUTALLUP, Wash.—At the agricultural exhibit of the Western Washington fair here doubles or twins won the record for freaks. There were twin apples, twin watermelons, a double pumpkin, triple carrots, two sets of united plums and a whole bunch of late Duke cherries grown as one. A novelty was a mango best brought by Alex Sumpkins of Orting which had been engirdled with a horseshoe. Of great interest was an artificial or "fed" watermelon from the irrigated Yakima Valley, over five feet long, and a cucumber grown by Marcus Dale of Husum, 15 inches long and four inches thick.

Hawes and Newton Tell Welcome Their Views on But Can't Be

Fifty members of the Association of Industries of Missouri, business men of St. Louis, had a luncheon at the Missouri Athletic Association yesterday with Congressmen Hawes and Newton as their guests, the main item being to tell the Congressmen that the business men were well organized, had definitely decided to get actively into politics, and that Congressmen who didn't "behave themselves" would find themselves opposed by business.

Hawes and Newton listened attentively.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

Delightful Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies That Are Endorsed by Medical Authorities to Cut Short a Cold or Cough Due to Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if You Don't Feel Relief Coming in Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and acclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, and rye, of any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried. All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is get relief from that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two spoonfuls. With you watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it. When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quick relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands who Dr. Edwards' prepared Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 30 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and stomach to act normally. They never cause them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bed-time. Try them. 10c and 25c.

ROSS AND GOOD REMOVED TO ANOTHER JAIL IN TEXAS

Action Taken When Hack Saw and Club Are Found in Cells of Convicted Slayings.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
FORT WORTH, Tex.—To prevent their escape, Tom Ross and Milt Good, convicted of the murder of W. D. Allison and H. L. Roberson, have been removed to the Dallas county jail. Ross and Good, West Texas ranchers, killed Allison and Roberson last April at Seminole and were tried separately for each killing. At Lubbock, Ross received a 36-year sentence and Good 28 years for Allison's death, and at Abilene, where the case was transferred, Ross got 20 years and Good 25 years for Roberson's death. They lost their fight for new trials and will remain in Dallas until the Court of Criminal Appeals rules.

While in jail at Abilene, a hack saw and club were found in the cells of the defendants and Ross was said to have remarked: "They have been saying I lorded it over the border country. If I ever get out I will return there and show them I can be a tiger."

Allison and Roberson were inspecttors for the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association and had worked up evidence against Ross and Good in alleged thefts of cattle. The grand jury met following the inspectors' deaths and indicted Ross and Good. The latter faces indictments in five counties for alleged thefts of cattle.

STUMPS UPROOTED FOR SHINGLES

Abandoned Sawmills in Washington Renowned for the Work.

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Old abandoned sawmills, overgrown with young fir and blackberry vines, are being renovated, new machinery replacing the rusted, to assist in the production of lumber and shingles for thousands of home builders. Cedar stumps are worked over by the fourth contingent of lumbermen. Years ago the loggers cut the best trees leaving tall stumps because of the curve in the grain. A decade later other men culled out the second best trees. Still another clearing was made of fallen logs and burnt-over stumps and now finally the good stumps are in course of uprooting for shingles. The wood is perfectly solid and suitable for star material even to that part of the tree long buried in the ground.

FEDERAL RESERVE GOVERNOR
SEES REASON FOR OPTIMISM
OVER WORLD TRADE OUTLOOK

Prosperous Europe Would Mean Better Times in U. S. Crissinger Says—It Has Made Real Progress Toward Producing Again.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A prosperous Europe means better times in America, said D. R. Crissinger, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, in an address last night before the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce at Harrisburg. He gave what he called "An Optimist's Bird's-eye View of Business Conditions and Prospects," in this country and abroad.

"Taking Europe as a whole," he said, "all reports indicate a highly satisfactory agricultural yield for 1922. I know how hard it is to convince an American farmer with an unmarketable surplus on his hands that big crops in Europe are going to help him. But I am one of those American farmers, and I dare say to the rest of them that in the long run the prosperity of Europe as a whole will be to their advantage."

"Once more let me say, that we will do better to take our chances in a world that is getting on well, than in a world that is starving for the need of our food surplus, but has nothing with which to buy."

Crissinger found special cause for gratification in the improvement of our relations with Mexico.

"We are entitled to view the present Mexican situation with particular satisfaction," he said, "because it demonstrates that patience and forbearance in trying circumstances will bear good fruit. There have been patience and forbearance on both sides. Beyond that, there have been gratifying evidences that the Mexican people are determined to lift themselves up by their own efforts to a better estate in the world."

"There is today a better outlook."

"Mexico might have had an explosion involving our own country. Instead Mexico is in a better position than for at least a decade, and our relations with her more satisfactory. It is needless to multiply cases. Let us merely keep in mind how many of possible evils we have avoided, how much of positive betterment we have gained."

Price Trend Downward, He Says.

"There is general disposition to conservatism in both industry and finance. This is particularly to be commended at a time when the price level of the world is pretty plainly tending downward. For us, this adjustment to a general downward tendency will be the more difficult because of the continuing flow of gold to this country. There is always temptation to inflation of the currency when the supply of gold is so generous."

"A few years ago, every added million of gold that came was greeted as further guarantee of security and prosperity. It was a well-nigh universal assumption that we couldn't have too much money circling, provided it was all solidly based on gold. At least, we know better now. That is something gained, and something immensely important.

"Nobody has yet found a way to stop the movement of gold to us, but many thoughtful people on both sides of the Atlantic at least realize the menace of this condition and are giving earnest thought to it. In that fact is a sign of better understanding, more accurate processes of thinking."

Danger of Too Much Gold.

"Here in the United States all classes of business men recognize the very real danger of having too much gold and the necessity of avoiding inflation by reason of it. This is proof of a great progress toward safety, sanity, and the sound basis for business."

"The final analysis of the whole matter is that the current year has been on the whole a year of conservation and moderation in both business and politics. The greatest difficulty about economic rehabilitation since the war has been that the world has had to deal with its economic problems in an atmosphere saturated with politics. Politics and economics have been inextricably mixed. In both business and the broad field of world relations, we find disposition to caution, to moderation, to patience and reasonableness. This should be altogether gratifying."

Britain's Farming Troubles.

A survey of political conditions throughout the world disclosed many reasons for optimism. He turned then to the economic state of various nations, beginning with Great Britain.

"Great Britain," he said, "approaches the winter with no pleasant vision of its prospects. Unemployment is very great. The burden of taxation is enormous just in proportion to British determination that every national commitment shall be executed and the national credit maintained."

"Especially is British agriculture in a state of profound depression. I think if we examine agricultural conditions in Great Britain and in our own country, we will be impressed that the agricultural troubles of different countries in this after-war epoch are curiously alike."

"In England, which produces only a small proportion of its food requirements, agriculture is described precisely the terms that might be applied to its troubles in the United States, a surplus-producing and exporting country whose great difficulty is the glut of the foreign market for the surplus."

Unemployment in Europe.

"While the unemployment condition in Great Britain is bad, there are some rays of light. Thus, there are high authorities for saying that while the number of unemployed is large, the number of the productively employed is probably as large as ever was, and nearly as large as the industrial plant of the country can utilize. The explanation is that a great army of Englishmen and Englishwomen were transferred during the war from the non-producing to the producing class."

"There are more people willing to work, and in need of work, than there ever were before. More than any other country, England is dependent upon foreign markets, and a period in which it finds itself with a positive increase in its force of workers, coupled with a depressed foreign demand, is bound to be disastrous."

"Turning to the Continent, I am assured by competent authorities that within the last few months unemployment on the whole has been steadily decreasing in the Scandinavian countries, in Holland, and in Italy. In Germany, despite the utter demoralization of finance and money and the depression in foreign trade, the people to an amazing extent have gone on working, tilling their fields, erecting factories and office blocks, building new houses, of which the need in many areas has been very great since the war."

"In France, by universal reports, there is no unemployment, and there has been almost none at any time since the armistice."

"Belgium is constantly described as the busiest and one of the most prosperous countries in Europe."

"Switzerland on the whole has had the best season, in 1922, since the war in respect of its vitally important tourist business."

"The disruption of the German money system seems to have gone as far as it is possible, and with the collapse of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the prospects of resuming production there, measures have been initiated which look to the re-establishment of a money system bearing a calculable relationship to the gold standard."

Production in Europe.

"From the date of the Armistice, all the diagnosticians of Europe's troubles have insisted that what Europe most needed was to get back to producing. Likewise they have been insisting that what we most needed was to have Europe get back to producing and therefore to the ability to buy. Now, I challenge the most enthusiastic pessimist to deny that Europe has made real progress toward getting back to production in this year 1922."

"Europe's crops are probably the best in any year since the war. There is reassuring indication that industrial production will be resumed in the Ruhr basin, which means immediately better conditions for both France and Germany. If the fortunate European situation as to agriculture this year seems momentarily to account for some part of the depression in our agricultural values, we may find consolation in the outlook for a general betterment of Europe's industrial condition in the coming months. That betterment not unlikely will presently restore to a considerable extent our agricultural balance."

"Mightier Than Woe."

"We will do well to avoid too much of prophecy. But we may safely let our vision of the future take some tones from our picture of the present. The year 1922 might have been one of disasters. Many predicted it would be. There might have been a huge convulsion in the Near East between Turkey and Greece. It was avoided. There might have been a Greco-Italian war, drawing in half the world. It did not come. There might have been revolution in Germany, but there was not. The Anglo-French entente might have been wrecked under the strains it sustained. But it was not. Europe might have had bad crops, starvation, typhus, universal turbulence. These have not befallen.

"Mexico might have had an explosion involving our own country. Instead Mexico is in a better position than for at least a decade, and our relations with her more satisfactory. It is needless to multiply cases. Let us merely keep in mind how many of possible evils we have avoided, how much of positive betterment we have gained."

The explanation is that a great army of Englishmen and Englishwomen were transferred during the war from the non-producing to the producing class."

"There are more people willing to work, and in need of work, than there ever were before. More than any other country, England is dependent upon foreign markets, and a period in which it finds itself with a positive increase in its force of workers, coupled with a depressed foreign demand, is bound to be disastrous."

"Turning to the Continent, I am assured by competent authorities that within the last few months unemployment on the whole has been steadily decreasing in the Scandinavian countries, in Holland, and in Italy. In Germany, despite the utter demoralization of finance and money and the depression in foreign trade, the people to an amazing extent have gone on working, tilling their fields, erecting factories and office blocks, building new houses, of which the need in many areas has been very great since the war."

"Belgium is constantly described as the busiest and one of the most prosperous countries in Europe."

"Switzerland on the whole has had the best season, in 1922, since the war in respect of its vitally important tourist business."

"The disruption of the German money system seems to have gone as far as it is possible, and with the collapse of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the prospects of resuming production there, measures have been initiated which look to the re-establishment of a money system bearing a calculable relationship to the gold standard."

Production in Europe.

"From the date of the Armistice, all the diagnosticians of Europe's troubles have insisted that what Europe most needed was to get back to producing. Likewise they have been insisting that what we most needed was to have Europe get back to producing and therefore to the ability to buy. Now, I challenge the most enthusiastic pessimist to deny that Europe has made real progress toward getting back to production in this year 1922."

"Europe's crops are probably the best in any year since the war. There is reassuring indication that industrial production will be resumed in the Ruhr basin, which means immediately better conditions for both France and Germany. If the fortunate European situation as to agriculture this year seems momentarily to account for some part of the depression in our agricultural values, we may find consolation in the outlook for a general betterment of Europe's industrial condition in the coming months. That betterment not unlikely will presently restore to a considerable extent our agricultural balance."

"We will do well to avoid too much of prophecy. But we may safely let our vision of the future take some tones from our picture of the present. The year 1922 might have been one of disasters. Many predicted it would be. There might have been a huge convulsion in the Near East between Turkey and Greece. It was avoided. There might have been a Greco-Italian war, drawing in half the world. It did not come. There might have been revolution in Germany, but there was not. The Anglo-French entente might have been wrecked under the strains it sustained. But it was not. Europe might have had bad crops, starvation, typhus, universal turbulence. These have not befallen.

"Mexico might have had an explosion involving our own country. Instead Mexico is in a better position than for at least a decade, and our relations with her more satisfactory. It is needless to multiply cases. Let us merely keep in mind how many of possible evils we have avoided, how much of positive betterment we have gained."

Price Trend Downward, He Says.

"There is general disposition to conservatism in both industry and finance. This is particularly to be commended at a time when the price level of the world is pretty plainly tending downward. For us, this adjustment to a general downward tendency will be the more difficult because of the continuing flow of gold to this country. There is always temptation to inflation of the currency when the supply of gold is so generous."

"A few years ago, every added million of gold that came was greeted as further guarantee of security and prosperity. It was a well-nigh universal assumption that we couldn't have too much money circling, provided it was all solidly based on gold. At least, we know better now. That is something gained, and something immensely important.

"Nobody has yet found a way to stop the movement of gold to us, but many thoughtful people on both sides of the Atlantic at least realize the menace of this condition and are giving earnest thought to it. In that fact is a sign of better understanding, more accurate processes of thinking."

Danger of Too Much Gold.

"Here in the United States all classes of business men recognize the very real danger of having too much gold and the necessity of avoiding inflation by reason of it. This is proof of a great progress toward safety, sanity, and the sound basis for business."

"The final analysis of the whole matter is that the current year has been on the whole a year of conservation and moderation in both business and politics. The greatest difficulty about economic rehabilitation since the war has been that the world has had to deal with its economic problems in an atmosphere saturated with politics. Politics and economics have been inextricably mixed. In both business and the broad field of world relations, we find disposition to caution, to moderation, to patience and reasonableness. This should be altogether gratifying."

Britain's Farming Troubles.

A survey of political conditions throughout the world disclosed many reasons for optimism. He turned then to the economic state of various nations, beginning with Great Britain.

"Great Britain," he said, "approaches the winter with no pleasant vision of its prospects. Unemployment is very great. The burden of taxation is enormous just in proportion to British determination that every national commitment shall be executed and the national credit maintained."

"Especially is British agriculture in a state of profound depression. I think if we examine agricultural conditions in Great Britain and in our own country, we will be impressed that the agricultural troubles of different countries in this after-war epoch are curiously alike."

"In England, which produces only a small proportion of its food requirements, agriculture is described precisely the terms that might be applied to its troubles in the United States, a surplus-producing and exporting country whose great difficulty is the glut of the foreign market for the surplus."

Unemployment in Europe.

"While the unemployment condition in Great Britain is bad, there are some rays of light. Thus, there are high authorities for saying that while the number of unemployed is large, the number of the productively employed is probably as large as ever was, and nearly as large as the industrial plant of the country can utilize. The explanation is that a great army of Englishmen and Englishwomen were transferred during the war from the non-producing to the producing class."

"There are more people willing to work, and in need of work, than there ever were before. More than any other country, England is dependent upon foreign markets, and a period in which it finds itself with a positive increase in its force of workers, coupled with a depressed foreign demand, is bound to be disastrous."

The driver, William McQuinn, 31, of 2905 North Grand boulevard, who appeared as police were placing the girl in another cab, explained that she had jumped from his machine and that he had gone for a doctor. Physicians who examined her at city hospital said she was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and apparently had been drinking. She had regained consciousness this morning, but would tell reporters nothing except to say she had jumped from the taxi "just because I wanted to."

WALL-OF BUILDING COLLAPSES
The front wall of a two-story building at Thirteenth and Palm streets, owned by the Mound City Ice and Cold Storage Co., collapsed yesterday afternoon and the two floors, with their burden of ice packing machinery, sank to the cellar. The building was used only for storage and the only person in it was a watchman, who got out when he heard premonitory sounds.

Democratic Women Postpone Meeting
By the Associated Press.
JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 19.—The annual conference of Democratic Women's Clubs of Missouri, to have been held at Columbia, November 13 and 14, has been postponed, Mrs. S. L. Bradley, state president, announced today. Postponement was made necessary, she said, because the dates conflict with those for meetings of State and National Democratic Committees. The conference, Mrs. Bradley said, probably will be held in Columbia in January.

$25,000 VERDICT FOR LOSS OF DAUGHTER'S AFFECTION

Mrs. Ethel Montgomery, Crum of Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Ethel Montgomery Crum of Indianapolis was awarded a verdict of $25,000 by a jury in probate court here at the conclusion of the hearing of a suit for $100,000 damages brought by Mrs. Crum against T. Wilbur Montgomery, her former husband, and four other relatives, based on allegations that they had alienated the affections of her daughter, Mary Eloise Montgomery, 17 years old.
Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have carried on a fight for possession of the daughter since their divorce in 1912. In 1913, Montgomery was convicted of kidnapping his daughter and was sentenced to the Indiana reformatory. He escaped from a guard while being taken to the funeral of a relative. He fled to Central American countries, taking the daughter with him and it was not until his return to Indiana, in 1921, that the mother again obtained custody of the daughter through habeas corpus proceedings.

VETERANS, BOTH REPORTED DEAD, MEET AT LEGION CONVENTION

Memorial Services for Capt. Frank McNab and Private Buster Miller Had Been Conducted in February.
By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Memorial services were conducted last February for Capt. Frank McNab who served with the 150th Ohio Infantry, and for Private Buster Miller, the only Californian with the Ohio regiment, by their comrades. Yesterday Capt. McNab and Buster Miller met here on the streets in one of the most touching scenes of the present legion convention.
Miller, reported dead through a War Department error, was a vaudeville entertainer when he enlisted. A bullet shattered his knee. He is now employed in an office in Los Angeles. Capt. McNab, paralyzed from the waist down by shrapnel wounds, moves about in a wheel chair and is engaged in legislation work for the legion.

MASONIC OFFICIAL RESIGNS AFTER DISCUSSION OVER KLAN

Scottish Rite Inspector General of Alabama Quits Order's Supreme Council.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Judge George Flemming Moore, past sovereign grand commander of the preme Council and Inspector general of Scottish Rite Masons in Alabama, resigned from the Supreme Council today after a discussion over the Ku Klux Klan.
During the debate Moore was charged by members of the council with using his weekly publication, "The Fellowship Forum," issued here, for furthering the aims of the Klan.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

ADVERSE WEATHER CURTAILS STATE ROAD WORK FOR WEEK

Total of 28.95 Miles Completed. Compared to Usual Weekly Average of 35 to 40 Miles.

Special to the Post-Dispatch:

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19.—Adverse weather conditions throughout the State curtailed highway construction last week under the direction of the State Highway Commission to 28.95 miles, as compared to the usual weekly average of 35 to 40 miles. Cost of the 28.95 miles of highway construction, on 278 projects in all sections of the State, was $330,000.

The Highway Commission has lettings of contracts for approximately $2,000,000 in highway work scheduled for the early part of next month.

In the year and one-half preceding Oct. 1, last, the commission reports showed 57 highway projects, totaling 1198 miles, were completed at a cost of $12,675,708. This included 587 miles of graded earth road, 443 miles of gravel road, 28 miles of macadam and asphalt and 130 miles of concrete road. Highway work still to be completed, and already under contract includes 443 projects, totaling 1044 miles, at a cost of $19,461,000.

SEES PRISON PROBLEM AS ONE OF HUMANITY

Sage Foundation Official Says "Jailbird" Isn't "Much Different From Us."

The "jailbird" is human—having "hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions; fed with the same food, hurt with the same weapons, subject to the same diseases, heated by the same means, warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer" as the rest of us.

Dr. Hastings H. Hart, head of the Child-Helping Department of the Sussell Sage Foundation since 1903, yesterday told a Post-Dispatch reporter that a complete realization of the above fact was the most important thing to remember in dealing with the "prison problem."

Dr. Hart, whose position keeps him traveling, was called to St. Louis by the Missouri Welfare League, which has offices in the Central National Bank Building, to confer on intimate details in organizing the work of the league, which is interested in corrective and benevolent institutions and programs.

Very Like Us
"Most of the prisoners are with us only a short time, six months or two or three years," said Dr. Hart. "The purpose of their imprisonment is the protection of society. The means to that end, to my mind, is so to deal with them while they are in prison that they may be turned back useful and safe members of society. To accomplish that, we must realize and remember that they are not so different from us who have not been sent to prison."

Especially is that true since many reach the prison for speeding or handling "hooray." In those cases they are very like us," Dr. Hart added, smiling, and continued: "They never feel that they were in the wrong, but invariably find some justification, really valid to so, biased as one's self."

Prisoners Do Suffer
"There is still a general feeling that the prisoner ought to suffer. He does. Society need have no worry along those lines, no matter how good the prisoner is."

"The public is a little shocked if the prisoner is permitted to spend an hour or so at a baseball game, or an hour a week at a moving picture. They forget that the prisoner is badly, a slave, he receives no pay for his labor. His correspondence is censored and visitors may see him only in the presence of an officer. And then he is disgraced; he is a marked man."

"On the other hand, the shiftless sort must shave, bathe, keep his clothes clean and neat and wear his cell and keep it in order. And don't you believe that doesn't make him suffer!"

WOMEN TO TAKE PART IN 'NATIONAL FORGET-ME-NOT DAY'

Proceeds From Sales Nov. 10 Will Go to Disabled American Veterans of War.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19.—Thousands of girls and women throughout the United States will take an active part in the coming "National Forget-Me-Not day" of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, according to National Adjutant Raymond A. Lasance.

The splendid success of last year's "National Forget-Me-Not day" drive will be overshadowed this year, Mr. Lasance says, when the campaign will be opened Saturday, Nov. 10, in every city and town in the United States. Prominent national, state and civic officials have already guaranteed their support and active participation in the disabled veterans' great "day," when public-spirited citizens all over the United States will purchase the little paper and cloth flowers.

Proceeds of national "Forget-Me-Not day" will be used for national legislative and welfare work; relief and educational measures in the interests of the world war's maimed and disabled American veterans, and general progressive activities in the national work of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

GIRL WOUNDED BY FATHER DIES

Church of Which He Was Deacon Excommunicates Him.

By the Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—Miss Brina Jane Beasley, 19 years old, died Thursday as the result of wounds inflicted Tuesday by her stepfather, W. W. Byrum. It is alleged, when she persisted in her determination to go to work, Byrum, who is confined in jail, was told of her death and expressed the hope that she had gone to Heaven and that he would meet her there. The Edgfield Cumberland Presbyterian Church, of which Byrum was a deacon, announced today that its session had formally excommunicated him for violating the commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

COMPANIONS OF SLAIN MAN ARE IDENTIFIED

Two Men Held at Pana, Ill. Sought by Police Here Since Pickel Company Robbery.

The two men who were with Jack Mandel, St. Louis police character, who was killed early yesterday in a crowded train at Pana, Ill., have been identified as Louis police characters.

Mandel had been sought by the police since the holdup of the Pickel & Granite Co., 1931 North Broadway, last Saturday, in which $1500 payroll money was taken by three armed robbers.

The license on the automobile in which the robbers escaped, was traced to the owner of a rental garage, who told the police that Mandel had been in his employ and that he had his automobile, which had been driven by Mandel, was out of the garage at the time of the robbery.

Robber's Auto Traced.
On the morning of the robbery, the police were told, Mandel telephoned the garage that he was being detained by fares in a saloon near Union Station. About an hour after the robbery the automobile was left in front of the garage, but Mandel failed to return.

George Creed, the third man at Pana, lives at 2306 Clark avenue and has been arrested by the St. Louis police several times in connection with investigations into robberies. His brothers, Thomas and Robert Creed, are awaiting trial for the murder of Patrolman George Geisler. They were convicted once and sentenced to life imprisonment, but the Supreme Court reversed the case because inadmissible evidence had been introduced by the State. Detectives are searching for the principal witness in the case, William English, who owned the saloon at 2100 Clark avenue, where the murder occurred. English is said to have left the city.

Justifiable Homicide Verdict.

A Coroner's verdict of justifiable homicide was returned last night in the Overbeck case. The jury held that Patrolman George W. Fisher, who killed Overbeck, acted in performance of duty and in self-defense.

STOCK DIVIDENDS PAID WITH BORROWINGS, SAUNDERS SAYS

Restifies.

Restified was taken by Piggy-Wiggy Directors, Former President.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 19.—Stock dividends, declared by the Piggy-Wiggy Corporation in December of last year, were paid with borrowed money, it was brought out here during the hearing of Clarence Saunders' receivership suit before C. L. Harrell, Federal Master in Chancery. Saunders testified that the Executive Committee declared the usual dividend and four days later the board of directors met and found no funds in the treasury with which to meet the dividend payments.

Earnings for the year, he said, were found to total approximately $400,000, four times the amount of the dividends, and the directors borrowed sufficient money to pay the dividend. He defended this action and set the amount of money in the treasury determined the payments of dividends.

The Master issued an order yesterday directing Saunders to produce bank statements to prove his accounting for $15,000,000 handled by him in stock transactions. The former Piggy-Wiggy president was instructed to have the statements, with other financial records, in court today when the hearing was to be resumed.

SHOT FLEEING FROM POLICEMEN

East St. Louis Man Was Robbing Saloon, Officers Report.

A man who said he was Edward Juenger, 29 years old, of 103 North Ninth street, East St. Louis, was shot in the right arm at 11 o'clock last night when fleeing from Patrolmen James and Oliver of East St. Louis, who reported they surprised him robbing a saloon at Third street and Division avenue.

FORMER FEDERAL DRY AGENT INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Dimitrios Koustas Accused of Killing His Partner in Saloon at Madison, Ill.

Dimitrios Koustas, former Federal prohibition enforcement agent in the East St. Louis district, was indicted by the Madison County (Ill.) grand jury yesterday for murder in connection with the killing July 4, last, of Nick Poulos, his partner in a saloon at 704 State street, Madison, Ill.

As was told exclusively in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday, efforts are being made by the Government to deport Koustas as an undesirable alien. Although claiming to have been naturalized at Canton, Ill., in 1912 he could produce no evidence of naturalization and some evidence that he is not a citizen was adduced by the Government.

Koustas was a prohibition agent for more than a year and was dismissed from the service in September, 1932. As a dry agent Koustas was known as "Tom Pappas."

BANKERS' LOAN TO SALVADOR IS "IN NO SENSE A TREATY"

State Department Denies That It Made Secret Agreement or That It Is Connected With Arrangement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The State Department, in a formal statement yesterday, said "an erroneous impression" regarding the relation of the Washington Government to the recent $5,000,000 loan to the Government of Salvador by an American banking group has been created as a result of statements appearing in the circulars advertising for subscriptions to the loan and also in press reports.

"It has been stated that a secret agreement has been made by the Department of State," the statement said. "This is a misleading statement as the agreement was negotiated between the Government of Salvador and the representatives of the bankers concerned. It is in no sense a treaty."

"The Department of State has no relation to the matter except with respect to facilitating the arbitration and determination of disputes that may arise between the parties."

Death From Natural Cause Verdict.

A coroner's verdict of death from natural causes was returned in the case of Zachariah Byron, a native of East St. Louis, who was found dead in bed at Edwardsville, Ill., on Saturday, a month ago and obtained employment on the place of Edward Brookmeyer. Heart disease is presumed to have caused death.

K. OF C. BUYS SITE FOR NEW HOME AT SARAH AND LINDELL

Structure Ten Stories in Height to Cost $1,250,000 to Replace Present Quarters Planned.

An acre of ground at the northeast corner of Lindell boulevard and Sarah street was purchased today by the St. Louis Knights of Columbus for the site of a 10-story building, costing $1,250,000, to replace their present headquarters at 3549 Olive street.

The purchase price of the ground, fronting 150 feet on Lindell boulevard and 308 feet on Sarah street, was not announced.

The new building, which will be of fireproof construction, will contain four lodge rooms, an auditorium seating 2000 persons, a large banquet room, a roof garden, and 200 rooms for members. Recreation facilities will include a swimming pool, gymnasium, library, billiard room and bowling alleys, and handball and tennis courts.

Construction will be in charge of a committee drawn from the 12 local councils, which have an enrollment of 12,000 members.

The Mississippi Valley Trust Co. purchased the site for the Knights of Columbus from the Collins Realty Co., which held it for the Peter Lindell estate.

UNABLE TO COLLECT $100 INSURANCE ON HUNTING DOG

St. Louis County Man Sues Out Warrant Against Agent Who Sold Him the Policy.

A warrant was issued today by Justice of the Peace Albin at Overland, St. Louis County, for the arrest of Herbert O. Byrd, 49 years old, of 1512 Teasdale avenue, University City, on complaint of Clarence Campbell, who resides on Lackland road, St. Louis County.

The complainant told Justice Albin that a year ago Byrd sold him an insurance policy of $100 against loss of a hunting dog, purported to have been issued by Lloyd's Underwriters of Springfield, Ill. The dog strayed or was stolen some months ago and Campbell attempted to collect the insurance. He alleges he was told by Illinois insurance authorities that no such company does business in that State.

PACKERS BALK AT PRICE LAW

Say Argentine Statute Fixing Minimum to Producer Will Not Work

By the Associated Press.
Buenos Aires, Oct. 19.—British and American meat packing companies here have decided to cease buying cattle for export because of the recently enacted law compelling them to buy from producers at fixed minimum prices. The companies say the law is not workable and that it is impossible for them to operate until the law is repealed or modified.

Although it is understood the companies of late have made heavy purchases of cattle in anticipation of passage of the law, their refusal to make further purchases for export is said to mean that shipments to Europe will cease within a month.

ELIHU ROOT CONFINED TO BED

Physicians Believe Trouble Can Be Remedied Without Operation.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Elihu Root, former Secretary of State, is suffering from kidney trouble and is confined to his bed here. His doctors are reported to have discovered a stone in the left kidney which they hope to remove without an operation.

Mr. Root became ill three weeks ago upon his return from a vacation in the country. But the nature of his illness was not revealed until a few days ago. At his plan offices it was said he was not expected to return to his desk for several weeks.

Many Persons Trampled in Dublin
Crash.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—Exciting scenes occurred outside Mountjoy prison today when crowds of women congregated in an effort to prevent the removal of hunger-striking prisoners. The troops failed to clear the streets and shots were fired, causing a stampede in which many persons were trampled and others faint.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—The presidential nomination of the Prohibition Party in 1924, is Henry Ford's, if he wants it, according to a statement issued here by Virgil Hinshaw of Washington, chairman of the Prohibition Party committee. Ford looked favorably on the proposition of the Prohibition Party to give him the nomination in 1920 and would have accepted it, had he not been pursued by followers of Woodrow Wilson to stay out of the race, Hinshaw asserted.

Prohibitionists generally favor Ford more than any other man discussed for the presidency, according to opinions expressed at a conference

RECEIVERSHIP HEARING TUESDAY

Indianapolis Co. Attorneys Question Jurisdiction of Court.

TULSA, Ok., Oct. 12.—Hearing on an application for a receiver for the Indianapolis Refining Co. was continued until Tuesday by Judge R. L. Williams' United States District Court here yesterday. Attorneys for the corporation, in a lengthy argument, questioned the jurisdiction of the court counsel for trustees of the estate of Gustav Wamagans of St. Louis, who filed the receivership petition, asked for leave to amend its proceedings. The hearing then was postponed.

Misappropriation of funds and mismanagement of the company are charged in the petition. Wamagans died in 1928 in Indianapolis.

PREPARATIONS TO UNCOVER
TUTANKHAMEN'S TOMB MADE

Carter Back in Valley of Kings to Direct Laborers—Work Expected to Require Two Weeks.

By the Associated Press.
LUXOR, Egypt, Oct. 12.—Preparations for lifting the 2000 tons of earth, stone and wooden joists that now rest over the tomb of Tutankhamen are proceeding rapidly.

Howard Carter and his American associates, Messrs. Candler and Burton, have re-established themselves in their lonely concrete domiciles at the entrance of the Valley of Kings and have made a complete survey of work that must be done before the tomb containing the mummy of Pharaoh can be opened. Archaeologists estimate that at least a fortnight will be required to clear away the heap of rubbish that now shields the King from the outside world. It is possible that a narrow gauge railroad lent by the American Archaeological Mission will be used to hasten the work. Nearly 100 of the native excavators who helped Mr. Carter uncover the tomb last summer have been re-engaged at stipends which make American union wages look like fortunes.

Each digger is to receive 12 cents a day with a slight bonus at the end of the season if the Pharaoh's body is found within the sarcophagus. Most of the laborers are boys of from 10 to 18, but some of them are grown men who support two or three wives on this slender remuneration.

It is probable that Pharaoh Tutankhamen will be undiscovered for many weeks as the dismantling of his multiple tabernacle of gold will require the most painstaking labor and skill.

The delicate nature of the outer shell will have to be treated chemically and the utmost care taken to guard them against breakage. In addition to this the entire wall shielding the sepulchre from the other chambers probably will have to be demolished so as to permit the archaeologists sufficient room in which to work.

Carter is still confident that the body will be revealed just as it was buried. The fact that the inner coffin is of stone precludes the use of the X-ray in determining what contains the mummy.

It is possible that when the labors of the season are over the Egyptian Government will arrange to place a large glass slab over the sarcophagus so that visitors from all parts of the world can see royal mummy. If this is done, the tomb will be illuminated by electric lights and the hitherto neglected and remote Valley of Kings will have become one of the world's show places.

Federal Attorney, Following Arrest of Eleven Men at New York, Declares $80,000 Has Been Seized.

DRY AGENTS NAME
STATE OFFICIALS

Prosecutor Says Plot's Exposure Has Revealed 'Shocking Conditions in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.'

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Eleven alleged conspirators accused of having used $80,000 to bribe prohibition agents, were arrested here yesterday by Federal agents. It is charged that they tried to bribe dry agents not to stop brewing in New Jersey and to let up on the entry into New York. At the same time they were to keep out beer made by rival breweries in Pennsylvania, and were not to interfere with the manufacture of whiskey from industrial alcohol. The dry agents who were supposed to be bribed were making weekly reports of their collections to Washington.

The alleged conspirators were met at the Hotel Pennsylvania, by appointment yesterday, one at a time, and arrested.

United States Attorney Hayward said the Government had confiscated $80,000 given to agents as bribes and declared that probably $700,000 had been given in bribes since the conspiracy originated.

Hugh A. McGuigan, special agent of the Internal Revenue Department, said that the four prohibition agents who laid the trap for the prisoners, had been offered $100,000 by New York brewers to permit the transportation of beer from a local brewery to saloons. Negotiations were almost completed, he said, but could not be closed because of the rapid developments which led to the premature arrest of the alleged bribers. No actual money payment was made in this case. The beer is said to be worth $200,000.

"Barring of the alleged conspiracy revealed a shocking state of affairs in New Jersey and possibly Pennsylvania," Hayward said. "State and other officials, politicians and persons high in social standing were in league with the bootleg conspirators."

Eleven Held in Conspiracy.

The men arrested are: J. Harry Foley, secretary to Senator Edward J. Edwards of New Jersey, when the latter was Governor, and now State Superintendent of Weights and Measures; Herbert Katz of the Paterson Brewing and Malting Co.; Edward Butler, Peter Brigid, Brewing Co., Elizabeth, N. J.; Harry Kullen, Hygeia Brewing Co., Passaic, N. J.; George Seiber, Rising Sun Brewing Co., Elizabeth, N. J.; Henry Greenfield, a prohibition agent; Emanuel Eifenbein, a truckman and warehouse man; Herman J. Goldman, Theodore L. Schwartzman, Herman Chemical Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.; William Nathan, Hoboken, N. J.; and Dr. Leo Zakaroff.

All are charged with conspiring to give bribes to influence the conduct of prohibition agents. Specific charges against Goldman, Schwartzman, Eifenbein, Greenfield, Nathan and Zakaroff involve giving moneys to permit the transportation and sale of alcohol to be rectified into whiskey and other alcoholic beverages. It was explained that denatured alcohol was redistilled into grain alcohol and used for manufacture of whiskey. That grain alcohol, which was to have been denatured, was instead used to make whiskey and that money was paid to permit these practices and to protect those carrying them out.

The charges against Foley and the four officials of breweries allege that they have paid bribes to Federal agents to permit them to flood New York and New Jersey with beer of high alcoholic content. The agents, in accepting the bribes, were stated, agreed to permit the manufacture and sale of New Jersey beer, and, on the other hand, promised to use their best efforts to prevent the sale in New Jersey of beer made in Pennsylvania.

Politicians Involved, Haynes Says.
It was stated that a regular weekly bribe of $4500 was accepted by an enforcement agent yesterday before the arrests were made. Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who has been in New York for two or three days, said the most gratifying aspect of the day's work was that it had been carried out in "one of the most difficult sections for enforcement in the United States."

"Overwhelming evidence," he said, "has been obtained against a large number of New Jersey breweries and several in the industrial alcohol concerns of New York and many New Jersey places. Some of the breweries and alcohol concerns are implicated in the conspiracy, and all in attempting to bribe Federal officers, about $50,000 in cash having actually been paid. Several men of political prominence are implicated in conspiracy, and the accurate knowledge we now have of the methods of graft being practiced by others will, no doubt, justify additional prosecutions later."

Pocket Much Graft Money.
"It is represented that men who have collected graft money have paid but a small part of it to alleged con-

rupt agents, having personally pocketed the greatest amount, representing that high Treasury and Justice Department officials in Washington participated. These brazen methods, set in motion currents of corruption in the underworld and even among many who should know better. This created the impression that all connected with the enforcement of the law must be corrupt, therefore, they argue—why not get in on the graft ourselves? These corrupt practices to emboldened the law violators in New Jersey that part of them followed the Federal agents into New York City there to culminate their bribes and conspiracies against the Government.

The investigation, it was stated, began in June, when reports reached Washington that the prohibition law was being brazenly violated and that an attempt was being made to cover them up by wholesale bribery.

General Prohibition Agents Grill and Dunigan went to New Jersey and began an inquiry. Immediately they were approached by bootleggers who assured them "they could get rich quick" if they would be "reasonable."

In August, Agents Roche and Barbard of the Special Intelligence Unit of the Treasury Department joined Grill and Dunigan. All pretended they were corrupt and that they were working hand in glove with the conspirators.

While the agents collected the $80,000 in bribes, they saw that other bribe collectors were reaping a harvest of money on promises that they would establish connections in high places in Washington.

Most of this money, the agents found, went into the pockets of the collectors and go-betweens, whose pretensions of influence in high places were false. Bribes accepted by the agents ranged from $400 to $6000; some of the go-betweens received as much as $20,000 for a single "fixing job," it is stated.

During their inquiry the agents followed trails leading to the doors of persons high in the social and political life of New Jersey. It was decided to postpone action until Government officials were able to capture a number of the alleged conspirators at once. Yesterday while some of the agents waited in the Hotel Pennsylvania, other agents drove over to New York on trucks. It was felt that it would be better to capture and try the alleged law violators in the jurisdiction of New York rather than that of New Jersey.

All of the 11 arrested were arraigned before Federal Commissioner Boyle and held in $15,000 bail each for a hearing Nov. 1. Bail was furnished for them by a bonding company.

SUIT TO CONDEMN MARKET STREET PROPERTY ASSIGNED

Judge Killoren to Appoint Three Commissioners to Assess Benefits and Damages.

A suit filed by the city Nov. 16, last, to condemn property for the widening of Market street from Sixth street to Vandeventer avenue has been assigned to Circuit Judge Killoren, who probably next week will appoint three commissioners to assess benefits and damages.

Part of the improvement will be paid for from the $87,000,000 bond issue, which was voted last February, and the remainder is to come from owners of real estate in the benefit district. The project includes a plaza site opposite Union Station embracing two blocks.

An ordinance providing for the improvement was approved May 18, 1922. After the condemnation suit was filed it was decided to let the matter lie dormant pending outcome of the bond issue proposition. Recently Assistant City Counselor Senn announced that the city was ready to have commissioners appointed, and an assignment was given the case.

Judge Killoren said yesterday he had deferred selecting the commission until he could obtain the right sort of men for the job. He let it be known that only competent persons will be on the commission.

The commissioners will appraise the value of property to be condemned and make awards to owners. They also will determine the extent other property owners are benefited and make assessments accordingly. They receive $5 for each meeting on the case.

More money is said to be involved in the project than in any similar improvement undertaken by the city. The ordinance also provides for widening of Walnut street from Third street to Sixth street, thence over to Market.

75 PER CENT OF U. S. CHILDREN HAVE RICKETS, SPEAKER SAYS

Chief of U. S. Bureau Says Sunshine and Vitamins Are Needed to Prevent Condition.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18.—It is generally estimated that about 75 per cent of the children in the United States have rickets during the first two years of life and that among negro children the rate is much higher than among white children. Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau, said in an address last night before the annual conference of the National Urban League for Society Service Among Negroes.

"By this, I do not mean that 75 per cent of all the children of the country have extreme cases of rickets indicated by seriously bowed legs and big heads," she said, "but approximately 75 per cent of the children have had rickets seriously enough to have affected the bone structure, permanently causing flat feet, chest deformities and other defects, and making the child, through its life, less able to resist disease than it would be if it had not had the rickets."

"We now know that rickets is caused by inadequate diet and lack of sunlight, and if we can work out some way in which we can be sure the babies get the necessary vitamins in their diet and can persuade mothers to let the sun have a chance to do its preventive work, rickets can be eradicated."

TOBACCO COMBINE ALLEGED

Three Large Companies Cited in Price Fixing Inquiry.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The American Tobacco Co., P. Lorillard Co. and the New England Tobacco Conference, composed of tobacco wholesalers and jobbers in the six New England states, were cited yesterday by the Federal Trade Commission to answer complaints that they have entered into an agreement to fix uniform discounts or prices at which the products of the two companies shall be sold. The complaints further charge that the two companies have agreed not to deal with wholesalers and jobbers declining to recognize the alleged price schedule.

OIL PROMOTER FOUND GUILTY

C. A. Reid Clark Convicted of Using Mails to Defraud.

By the Associated Press.
SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 19.—C. A. Reid Clark was found guilty of using the mails to defraud in the promotion of worthless oil stock by a jury in Federal Court here last night. Federal authorities charged Clark with promoting the Clark $100 Unit Oil Company, which sold units to many persons in 1920 and 1921, according to the testimony.

Olive and SixthWEEKS PLEDGES ANEW
SUPPORT OF GEN. WOOD

Cable Sent "After Personal Conference With the President" on Philippines.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The support of the Washington administration was pledged anew to Governor General Leonard Wood's regime in the Philippines in a cablegram sent him a week ago by Secretary Weeks, it developed.

"After personal conference with the President," said the War Secretary's message, "and recognizing the necessity of bringing about co-operation between the branches of the Philippine Government, executive, legislative and judicial and maintaining the clear line of demarcation between them which is essential to well-balanced government, it seems well to make the following authoritative statement of the views of the administration here.

"The personal sacrifice involved in your acceptance of your present office is proof of your desire to serve the Filipino people. You are entitled to the support of the administration and you have it.

"Wood's Powers Not Exceeded. "The controversy with the legislative leaders and certain executive officers is at bottom a legal one. The Congress, after full consideration, vested the authority of control and supervision over all departments and bureaus in the Governor-General, which makes these officials directly responsible to him and not to the Legislature as in a parliamentary form of government.

"The powers of the Governor-General have not been exceeded or encroached by you in any instance of which the War Department is advised. If the Legislature has enacted legislation violative of the principles of the organic law, such legislation is to that extent null and void, and insofar as it provides for encroachments of the authority of the Governor-General is in no way binding on that official.

"The Legislature has in a number of instances delegated legislative power in violation of the principles of constitutional government. Silence of Congress on such legislation does not effect a modification or amendment of the organic law.

"Your Duty Fulfilled. "The veto power granted to the Governor-General is applicable to all legislation, whether it be local or otherwise.

"The Legislature has provided for establishment of a bank and for certain investments of a business or semibusiness character. This was within the authority of the Legislature. In agreement with this administration, you believed these investments unwise and have advised the Legislature accordingly. This was your duty.

"Certain officials connected with the bank were corrupt. You have brought them to trial. Your duty in the premises has been fulfilled.

"The Legislature must now determine whether these Government enterprises are to be carried on or not. So long as the Legislature indicates through adequate legislative enactment and provision of necessary means its desire and purpose to carry them on, you should endeavor to have it done efficiently.

"If the foregoing offers a basis on which the co-operation contemplated by the law can be assured in the Philippines, it will be supported here."

KEEN COMPETITION EXISTS
AMONG CORFU SHOE SHINERS

Successful Polisher Often Deals Steadily Blow as He Kneels to Perform Task.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

CORFU, Sept. 20.—The American shoe shine parlor manned by Greeks is the transplanting of a time-worn profession from their old country. Corfu is a city of 30,000 persons, but it has a shoeshiner for about every 300 inhabitants, or about 100 shoeshiners. There are so many of them that a prospective customer is besieged with offers of "the best shine in town," and often the competition is so keen that the successful Polisher is dealt a steady blow as he kneels to perform his function.

All Corfu gets its shoes shined by the 100 professionals. Lines of them occupy the main squares of the city, and men, women and children from every walk in life are lined up for the morning shine. The variety of shoes, too, is perplexing, but the Greek Polisher goes ahead and gives the best that is in him. It is strange that here at the very beginning of the Near East, the best shine in Europe may be secured. In England and France there is nothing like the brilliant American shine. But here there is the perfect reproduction of the glittering American brand and one is forced to wonder if America imported it from the Greeks or the Greeks from America.

You don't need Turkey to enjoy Cranberries

Great with Roast Pork!

Delicious cranberry sauce—made in ten minutes makes the finest relish with roast pork—and promotes digestion!
Whenserved with any kind of meat, cranberry sauce gives zest to the whole meal and helps balance the diet. Here's the proper way to make cranberry sauce—

Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce

One quart cranberries, two cups boiling water, 1/4 to 2 cups sugar. Boil sugar and water together for five minutes; skim; add the cranberries and boil without stirring (five minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins are broken. Remove from the fire when the popping stops.

And when you have the cranberry sauce, you can easily and quickly make many delicious desserts, such as cranberry pie, pudding, short-cake, tarts, etc.

To be sure of getting the choicest cultivated varieties, ask for Eatmor Cranberries. The red and blue trade-mark label is on all barrels and boxes.

And always cook cranberries in porcelain-lined or aluminum vessels.

Twenty Million sound reasons for buying them

Eversharp and Wahl Pen have found their way into the hands of over twenty million people. Many now carry two Eversharps—one with the new colored lead.

Eversharp's perfect balance makes it the most comfortable pencil to hold. You never find a wobbly lead in Eversharp—the exclusive rifled tip grips it tightly. The automatic index tells always the length of lead in the barrel. An eraser and magazine of extra leads are under the cap. Eversharp's exclusive features can't be copied.

The all-metal Wahl Pen is a wonderful fountain pen improvement. It cannot crack or split. It holds more ink. It will last a lifetime.

Buy both, matched in gold or silver. Eversharp, $1 to $10; Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices. Look for the name on each.

*Wahl all-rubber pens are great—simp-y great! $2.50 up.

IMPORTANT: A pen is better than its lead. Don't use poor lead in your Eversharp. Eversharp leads are recognized as the finest made—a fact proved by over 900,000 sold every year. They are made to fit the pencil. Seven grades—very soft to very hard. And for the new small-diameter colored leads, too! In the red top box.

Are You the Lucky One in Five?

Not if your Gums Bleed Easily

Tender, bleeding gums! That's Nature's warning. Pyorrhea is about to strike.

It claims four persons out of every five past forty, and thousands younger, robbing them of precious teeth and sapping their priceless health.

Don't wait. Form the habit of strict oral hygiene now. Go to your dentist regularly for tooth and gum inspection. Brush your teeth with Forhan's For the Gums—a healing dentifrice that when used in time and used consistently, will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress.

Forhan's For the Gums is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D.D.S. Used as a dentifrice, it will keep your teeth white and clean and your gums firm and healthy. It is pleasant to the taste. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

CHARGE OF PETTY LARCENY AGAINST CHEF DISMISSED
Case of Restaurant Proprietor, Arrested on Charge of Theft of Hams, Also Dropped.
A charge of petty larceny against Emil Tonalla, former chef at Ibsen's tearoom, 912 Olive street, was dismissed in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday when Provisional Judge William Maffitt Bates upheld the defendant's contention that the State had failed to make a case.

Following that action a nolle prosequi was entered by the State in the case of Paul Orsi, a restaurant proprietor, who had been arrested in connection with the case. The charges against Tonalla and Orsi grew out of the alleged theft of hams and mayonnaise dressing from the tearoom. No charge was preferred against Walter Kreljel, a driver, who was arrested in connection with the case.

NEW RULE ON LAWYERS IN BANKRUPTCY CASES
Judge Faris to Prevent Attorneys Instituting Actions From Becoming Counsel for Receivers
An unusual rule applicable in bankruptcy cases in the Federal court here has been promulgated by Judge Faris to prevent lawyers who institute such proceedings from becoming counsel for the receivers or trustees appointed for the bankrupt estates, except by special authorization of the court.

Lawyers specializing in bankruptcy matters, in reviewing the rule, declare it is intended to break up the practice of attorneys of asking for receivers in nearly every bankruptcy matter instituted. Judge Faris declined to discuss the rule, declaring it speaks for itself.

The Judge frequently, in the three years he has been on the Federal bench, has taken occasion to criticize the practice of attorneys in these cases in applying for appointment of receivers and have such appointment followed by the application of the receivers for the appointment of the petitioning attorneys as counsel for the receivers.

He has characterized the practice as a "round robin proposition" and has inquired carefully into the facts before appointing receivers in nearly all cases. The order for the new rule, as it reads on the minutes of the court, is as follows: "It is hereby ordered that Rule 35 of the Special Rules in Bankruptcy be amended by adding thereto the following paragraph, to-wit: "Paragraph A—Unless specially authorized by the court, receivers and trustees in bankruptcy shall not retain as their attorney the attorney of the bankrupt, of the petitioning creditors, of the person applying for the appointment of a receiver, or of any creditor; and trustees shall not retain as their attorney, any attorney who has obtained proxies or voted upon the election of such trustees, or who is an attorney for persons holding such proxies, or who has any agreement or understanding, express or implied, for any division of fees, or is in the service of, employment of, or has his office in connection with such attorney."

WOMAN SUES FOR $22,500 OVER SALE OF STOCK

She Alleges Officers of Company Induced Her to Sell for $7,700 Shares Worth $30,000.
Mrs. Susanna Rosenow, 3910 Castelman avenue, yesterday filed suit for $22,500 damages against Fred A. C. Skinner, Merrill G. Skinner and Charles M. Skinner, officers of the Skinner Bros. Manufacturing Co., 1400 South Vandeventer avenue, based on sale of stock in that company. She says that although the stock actually was worth $30,000 the defendants induced her to sell it for $7,700. It formerly was the property of her husband, Henry Rosenow, sales manager of the company, who died five years ago.

Another suit also was filed by Mrs. Rosenow in which she asks that the company be compelled to render an accounting, based on an alleged agreement to pay to her husband a bonus or commission on sales made by him. She asks that the court determine the amount due and render judgment in her favor as sole beneficiary of her husband's estate.

FOUR DROWN WHEN SHIP SINKS
Schooner Goes to Pieces After Being Battered by Hurricanes.

By the Associated Press.
PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 19.—After having encountered two hurricanes and then a storm, the American schooner Bluefields, owned in Mobile, went to pieces yesterday afternoon, 10 miles off Pensacola bar. Four men, including First Mate Malachi E. Banks, were drowned. The other three were natives of India, who were being sent to Cuba, having some time previously been landed at Jacksonville illegally. The surviving members of the crew reached Pensacola about noon.

Commerce Club Clearing House.
The Commerce Club of St. Louis University, which was organized last spring with a membership of 1000 students, graduates and former students of the School of Commerce and Finance, has opened in room 515, Federal Reserve Bank Building, a clearing house which is intended to provide the business firms of St. Louis and vicinity with expert accountants, commercial experts and business executives of a highly trained type. The service will be without cost. The records cover the class ratings, present status and possibilities of all students of the Commerce and Finance department of St. Louis University during the 13 years the course has been in existence.

Former Ball Player Seeks Divorce.
J. Erskine Mayer of 1241 Hamilton avenue, a former baseball pitcher for the Philadelphia National League club, yesterday filed suit to divorce Eleanor Emma Mayer of Philadelphia, alleging desertion. They were married June 20, 1915, and separated March 1, 1922. They have two children, both residing with their mother in Philadelphia. Mrs. Mayer refused to leave that city and come with her husband to St. Louis when he obtained a position with a piano company here, his lawyer said.

Hysterical Girl Taken to Hospital.
A mounted policeman found a girl about 18 years old, giving her name as Florence Grant, in a hysterical condition near 6821 Manchester avenue at 9:30 o'clock last night. She was taken to the city hospital, where she gave the address of a sister. Police are endeavoring to find the sister.

PLAYWRIGHT ARRESTED IN ITALY

By the Associated Press.
CAPRI, Italy, Oct. 19.—Lawrence Valli, who married Margaret Guggenheim, daughter of the late Benjamin Guggenheim, American copper magnate, was arrested here after an incident Sunday evening in a Capri club. He was sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment, but appealed and with his wife was allowed to leave for America.
Valli, who is 32 years of age, is a writer of plays and short stories and is the son of Eugene Valli, a well known Paris artist. He was married to Miss Guggenheim in Paris in March, 1922.

REVOLT IN HIDALGO, LED BY GEN. ORTIZ

Flag of Agrarianism Reported Raised by Former State Chief of Rurales.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19.—General Emiliano Ortiz, former chief of the rurales in the state of Hidalgo, has revolted and taken to the mountains with 50 followers, where he has raised the flag of Agrarianism, according to reports from Pachuca.

Neither the newspapers of the capital nor Government circles have received details of disorders in San Luis Potosi, where there is a controversy over the governorship. Developments are expected, however, in consequence of the orders given to General Gutierrez to disarm the followers of the Cedillo brothers who were last reported advancing upon the city of San Luis Potosi to enforce the claims of Aurelio Manrique to the gubernatorial office, which now is held by Jorge Prieto Laurens.
Adolfo de la Huerta, former minister of finance, announces that he has decided to place before the Mexican people the decision as to whether he shall become a candidate for the presidency.
In a statement yesterday he called attention to his previous declarations that he would not figure among the presidential candidates.
"Today, because people in numerous groups are agitating in my behalf," the statement continues, "I feel that the entire country energetically invokes my duty as a Mexican citizen and I fear the implacable menace of disqualification as a loyal son of my country unless I comply."

SLAIN MAN HAD BEQUEATHED HIS ESTATE TO CHILDREN'S HOME

Key Found in Possession of Confessed Murderer Fitted Safe Deposit Box Containing Will.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 19.—A key found in possession of the confessed murderer of John H. Lane, a former resident of South Dakota, who recently was slain near Tampa, Fla., fitted Lane's safe deposit box in the vault of a Tampa bank, in which a will executed by Lane was found. This and other information concerning events since the murder have been received by Lane's friends in South Dakota.

Lane had no known relatives closer than cousins, several of whom reside at Canton, Ill., to which place the body was sent for interment in a cemetery lot which he purchased in October, 1913. The will of the slain man was executed April 20, 1923, and bequeaths to a children's home at Tampa complete ownership of all his rights and property of every nature.
The murderer of Lane, who was arrested a short time after he committed the crime while seated in an automobile identified as having belonged to Lane, has been identified as Frank Meyer, who has a police record.

EAST USING PUGET SOUND EGGS

Vast Supply Being Shipped by Boat Boosts Prices in Seattle.
SEATTLE, Wash.—New York and other big cities of the Atlantic coast have to look far for some food supplies and the Panama Canal has enabled them to seek fresh eggs produced in the Puget Sound country. The demand for fresh eggs which may be placed in reefer ships and carried to New York in a couple of weeks has inflated the price here because of the small supply for local consumption. The refrigerator space in the coast to coast ships has trebled the poultry industry in one year. In order that the east coast may have fresh eggs, however, the Northwest consumers are confronted with the highest prices for many years.

Sentenced Two Hours After Arrest.
EL DORADO, Ark.—Arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, all within two hours and six minutes, was the fate of Harvey Johnson, a negro, charged with breaking into a house. He was sent to the penitentiary on the first train out.

PHEASANTS ELUDE HUNTERS

Washington Gamebirds Seek Cover
Where Dogs Can't Work.
ELLENBURG, Wash.—The Chinese and Mongolian pheasants are proving too smart for hunters this season. Reared and protected by the state for the short open period in October, the first pop of shotguns sends them whirling away to the densely forested hill sides. Dogs trained for hunting in tangled alfalfa and brushy land are useless in the thick evergreen woods.

Varieties of pheasants, partridges and grouse have been propagated by the state game farm and released in many parts of the state. These birds have increased in numbers during favorable summers and are a pest to farmers in some sections, driving domestic fowl away from the grain.

Organizes Quartet in Jail.
YAKIMA, Wash.—C. J. Zintheo, former professor in Iowa State College, charged with passing worthless checks, has organized a vocal quartet in the county jail. He is first tenor, D. Simons, a negro jewelry store robber, second tenor; W. C. Donnelly, held for auto theft, baritone, and Harry Austin, Federal prisoner, basso. With plenty of time for practice and a creditable repertoire the performers attract big crowds who can hear the melody from sidewalk reservations.

RED CROSS MATTRESS

How to Enjoy that
"Top o' the Morning" Feeling
Sleep soundly every night and you'll wake up "peppy" every morning—aglow with health. What delightful relaxation the Red Cross Mattress insures! We build the interior of this luxurious bed with Kapoc Floss which we put through the special Red Cross process to make it soft, comfortable, sanitary and self-ventilating.

It's this process which makes the Red Cross almost half as light as ordinary mattresses, and adjust itself more gently to the lines of the body. Money cannot buy a better mattress than the Red Cross, and the healthful slumber it affords makes the investment well worth while. Sealed in sanitary cartons.

Don't buy a "Just-As-Good," but insist on a Red Cross Mattress. Look for the label on each mattress for your protection.

SEVEN Wives and Eight Fiancées—Widows a Specialty.

HARRY ROSHON had plenty of aliases and worked fast. Sometimes he married again before his previous honeymoon ended. The Sunday Post-Dispatch tells how this "lonely, home-loving man" wooed and won women whose financial ratings were satisfactory. The authorities are skeptical and wonder why he confessed to some of his bigamous marriages before any serious charge had been placed against him. Will back-tracking reveal something more serious?

ELVINS DEFENDANT IN SUIT INVOLVING $14,000 IN BONDS

Former Congressman, as Executor of Estate, Failed to Account for Securities, Heir Alleges.

COUNTER CLAIM OF $15,000 FILED

Elvins Contends He Owes Estate Nothing; That Farmer Gave Bonds to Distant Relative.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HILLSBORO, Mo., Oct. 19.—Question of whether the late Jacob Day, a close-calculating St. Francis County farmer, gave $14,000 in bonds to a distant relative by marriage, or his executor, former Congressman Polite Elvins, lead-belt politician and corporation lawyer, failed to account for them, has been occupying a Jefferson County jury here all week in a civil suit in Circuit Judge Dearing's court.

Day's heir, his sister, Miss Mary H. Day, of Farmington, alleged through counsel, that Elvins failed to account for the bonds, and sued him for a total of $27,263.82, alleged to be due the estate. Elvins' contention in defense, and in a statement to the correspondent, was that Day gave the $14,000 in bonds to George Stanfill of Piedmont, Mo., who is said to have been distantly related to Day by marriage; further, that he owes the estate nothing, but that Miss Day owes him $15,000 for services, for which he filed a counter-claim.

Origin of Story.

The story has its origin in the "old Day place" in the lead belt of St. Francis County, south of here. This was a farm of several hundred acres, worth probably a few thousand dollars for husbandry. "Old Lady Day," who had three children, willed the homestead to two of them, Jacob and Mary. Another daughter, a Mrs. Kirkpatrick, was not living on the farm, hence, presumably, was not especially interested.

Then industry's cry for lead caused the mines to spread and Jacob and Mary Day sold the farm to an Eastern mining company for something more than $50,000. It is not recorded that bequelling spinners got a penny of their fortune, but it is apparent that they had some good advice concerning its investment. They went to Farmington to live.

Day once was married, but, as he is reported to have remarked to an acquaintance, "Mary is there to look after the house, so what's the use of supportin' another woman?" So, children, he was divorced. When the war forced the town barber to raise the price of weekly shaves from 10 to 15 cents, shrewd Jacob vowed he wouldn't pay the extra nickel nor return to the shop.

Elvins Named Executor.

He died July 28, 1919, in his 60's. Save for $5 bequeathed Mrs. Kirkpatrick he left all his residuary estate to Miss Day. His will made Elvins, who had been his friend, executor. This the way was paved for discord, which was summarized in an amended petition in Miss Day's suit, under which the trial was held here after a change of venue.

The suit alleged that Elvins, as executor, took charge of the estate and also of Miss Day's half interest that did not come under the will; that Elvins received, in all, property of hers valued at $192,257.73; that from time to time he delivered to her property valued at $155,351.31, and that the difference, $37,206.42, was due the plaintiff, judgment in that sum being asked.

Included in the property listed as received by Elvins were 10 Beaver Bayou (Ark.) drainage district bonds and four New Madrid County (Mo.) drainage district bonds, valued at $14,264, or with interest coupons at $15,084. The petition did not charge that these bonds were not returned, but such was the plaintiff's contention.

Elvins' Answer.

In Elvins' formal answer to the suit he admitted that at the time of his final settlement as executor, and now, he has in his possession $12,121.82 derived from Miss Day's assets, (which he is holding pending settlement of the contention). He made a general denial of the charges in the suit and especially denied that either the plaintiff or Day's estate ever owned the drainage bonds in question, or that he, Elvins, ever had possession of them.

Not only that, the answer declared, but Elvins' legal and managerial services for Miss Day since her brother's death, aside from his duty as executor, were worth $15,000, and he made counter-claim for that sum. Among the services listed was management of a 1300-acre plantation in Louisiana, handling of tax returns and notes, prosecution of suits and other legal matters and an effort to sell the plantation at her request, which would have been successful had she not demurred.

Miss Day employed as counsel, Charles H. Hay and Walter Hensley, St. Louis. Robert Kleinschmidt and Charles White, local lawyers. They outlined to the correspondent points they said had been made in presenting their evidence, as follows:

J. H. Malugen, a Bonne Terre

(Mo.) attorney, testified he had examined Elvins' final settlement and told the executor certain bonds were not accounted for; that Elvins, at a conference in Probate Court, denied knowledge of these bonds but admitted he had not included some items totaling about $5000, for which he would make private settlement; the witness declared he learned (Continued on Next Page.)

"UNUSUALLY LARGE" COAL PROFIT SHOWN

U. S. Trade Commission Report Reveals Added Profits as Shipment Changed Hands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Tracing anthracite shipments through distribution channels from the way from the mines to consumers, the Federal Trade Commission has found a number of instances in which domestic coal was handled on an unusually large profit, and also was "scalped" or passed from hand to hand with added profits en route.

The first of a series of weekly reports on the subject covers the findings from wholesalers' reports for the week ending Sept. 22. The study was made, the commission said, at the direction of President Coolidge.

A wholesale margin of 25 cents a ton on coal handled, the commission concluded, was "rather generally recognized in the industry," while margins of 75 cents or more a ton were said to be "the result of wholesaler's charging what the traffic will bear." Taking all the domestic coal handled during the week ending Sept. 22, the report continued, "it was found that 9.8 per cent had been handled on a 1-per-cent margin."

As to 17 per cent of the coal the wholesalers had taken 75 cents a ton, while 36 per cent was handled for a charge of 50 cents per ton, and 31 per cent moved at a margin of 25 cents per ton. The wholesalers moved all of these shipments, the report said, "without physically handling the coal."

As to the passing of coal from dealer to dealer in the wholesale market, the commission said, it was found that 60 per cent of all the domestic hard coal produced during the week had been handled only by one wholesaler. Another 22 per cent of the coal for the week had been bought by one wholesaler from another before delivery to the retail trade or to consumers.

About 6 per cent was reported to be bought from the mines by one wholesaler who sold it to another, and an additional 2 per cent had been bought by one wholesaler from another in the same trade, and sold to a third wholesaler.

Gross profits and additional details of the traffic, it was announced will be taken up in later studies.

Elvins had sold the drainage bonds in question at the Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis, Sept. 4, 1919, and that coupons on these bonds had been cashed after Day's death.

Miss Day's Testimony.
Miss Day testified that she and her brother owned the drainage bonds; that she and her brother clipped coupons from them April 16, 1919, in the presence of witnesses, and that Day went to sleep while this was going on; that she then put the bonds all back in a safe, which was not opened again while her brother lived; the exhibited a book in Day's handwriting, listing these bonds.

A deposition by Sidney Maestre, manager of the bond department of the Mercantile Trust Co., was introduced, in which he asserted that he bought for his company from Elvins, in September, 1919, drainage bonds of the value and kind of those in question, and that later Elvins bought United States Treasury certificates.

Elvins, who had as counsel, Jerry B. Burks and B. H. Macbry of Farmington and Clyde Williams of Hillsboro, was on the witness stand for a long time, going over records and facts. His testimony followed the line of his answer to the suit, and in explanation of the drainage bond matter he declared that Day had given these bonds to Stanfill in April, 1919.

"Day gave Stanfill these bonds for the education of his boy," Elvins said to the correspondent. "Afterwards Stanfill had me sell them for him and I did so at the Mercantile Trust Co. and later bought Government securities for him. I don't owe the estate or Miss Day anything, but she owes me for my services."

Defense Depositions.
Depositions for the defense supported the declaration that Day gave the bonds to Stanfill; they were given by Stanfill, by two persons who purported to have seen the transfer and by the Prosecuting Attorney of St. Francois County, who said Elvins told him Day had provided "quite handsomely" for Stanfill's boy. Cross examining these deposition witnesses, the prosecution had sought to show that if a man of Day's characteristics gave away $14,000 in bonds the whole town would have known it.

As to the counter-claims, the plaintiff contended that Elvins tactically agreed to handle legal and other business without charge, and pointed out that he had received $9000 in probate fees.

Miss Day—a gaunt, silent, elderly figure—and a woman companion, both of whom bore the marks of farm life, have been virtually the only occupants of the spectators' benches in the old court room.

Elvins is a member of the Constitutional Convention and a Special Assistant United States Attorney-General, attached to the St. Louis office. His home is in Bonne Terre.
He served a term in Congress in 1909-10. For a time he was chairman of the Republican State Committee. He had been known as a leader of the machine element of his party. In 1920 he was defeated in the race for the lieutenant governorship.

The Rumor that Zev Had the Mange Must Have Originated in Reports that He Was Itching to Go

"Dirt Track and Left Turns Not Serious Handicaps to Papyrus," Jockey Steve Donoghue Asserts

Noted British Rider Says English Derby Winner in Test Work-out, Took the Four Left Turns Without Mishap—Change From Turf to Dirt Course Not Harmful.

By Stephen Donoghue, England's Greatest Jockey.
(As Told to O. H. P. Garrett of the New York World.)
(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—I was up on Papyrus yesterday. He must have been feeling as top-hole as I was. I took him over the course, and he answered beautifully.

For the benefit of those who might think that Papyrus would not be in as good condition as when I had him in England, I want to make it clear that the horse never seemed better. All horses are moody. Papyrus is not as moody as a lot of them. He has a pleasant disposition.

He seems to be completely acclimated to your American racing conditions. We race on turf in England. Your tracks are of dirt. But it seemed to me yesterday that Papyrus was as at home on the dirt track at Belmont Park as on the sod.

Many of our race tracks at home have the turns to the RIGHT. On your tracks the turns are to the LEFT. On our tracks there are only two turns to the distance. At Belmont one has to make four turns. In our work-out yesterday Papyrus took the four turns to the left without worrying.

There was a large crowd there to watch us. It was almost like a race meet. Your people seemed surprised at the fast time. They needn't have been. I wasn't. Papyrus has never failed to give me all I asked.

"Papyrus Never Failed Me"—Donoghue.

Papyrus is a fine horse. People have been asking me constantly if he is the greatest I have ever ridden. I can't say that; no jockey can, of any horse. Remember I have ridden

Speculators All at Sea After Zev Is Selected to Oppose British Contender

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The definite announcement this afternoon by the selection committee that Zev and not My Own would meet Papyrus in the international match race at Belmont Park, tomorrow afternoon, caused a hasty readjustment of betting conditions. As the situation now stands, the speculators are a bit at sea and it is probable that among the purely professional speculators the final betting will be 9 to 10 against each candidate.

This situation undoubtedly is due to the fact that while Zev may be suffering from skin trouble, the going is expected to suit him admirably and his fine half mile workout in the mud left a favorable impression. He turned a half mile in 47 3-5 on a very unfavorable track and that looked good enough to affect him.

The announcement followed the arrival of Rear Admiral Grayson's My Own from Laurel, Md., after the colt had been brought there to serve as a substitute for Zev if the going should be too heavy for the latter. The committee of the Jockey Club investigated to select an opponent for Papyrus in the international race at Belmont Park tomorrow, has decided that Zev, their original choice, is in condition to race.

Track Will Be Fair.

The probability that the event will be raced either on a sloppy or muddy track has drawn a great deal of comment about the ability of the principals under such conditions. Zev may start despite his skin eruption, as he was the mud horse

Kansas City Has Lead of 2 Games

A. A. Champions Need Only Two More Victories to Clinch Minor Title.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—The Kansas City Blues and the Baltimore Orioles, contenders for the minor league baseball title, were on their way to Baltimore today where the fifth game of the little world's series is scheduled for Saturday. Kansas City won yesterday, 5-2, Schupp striking out 10 batters.

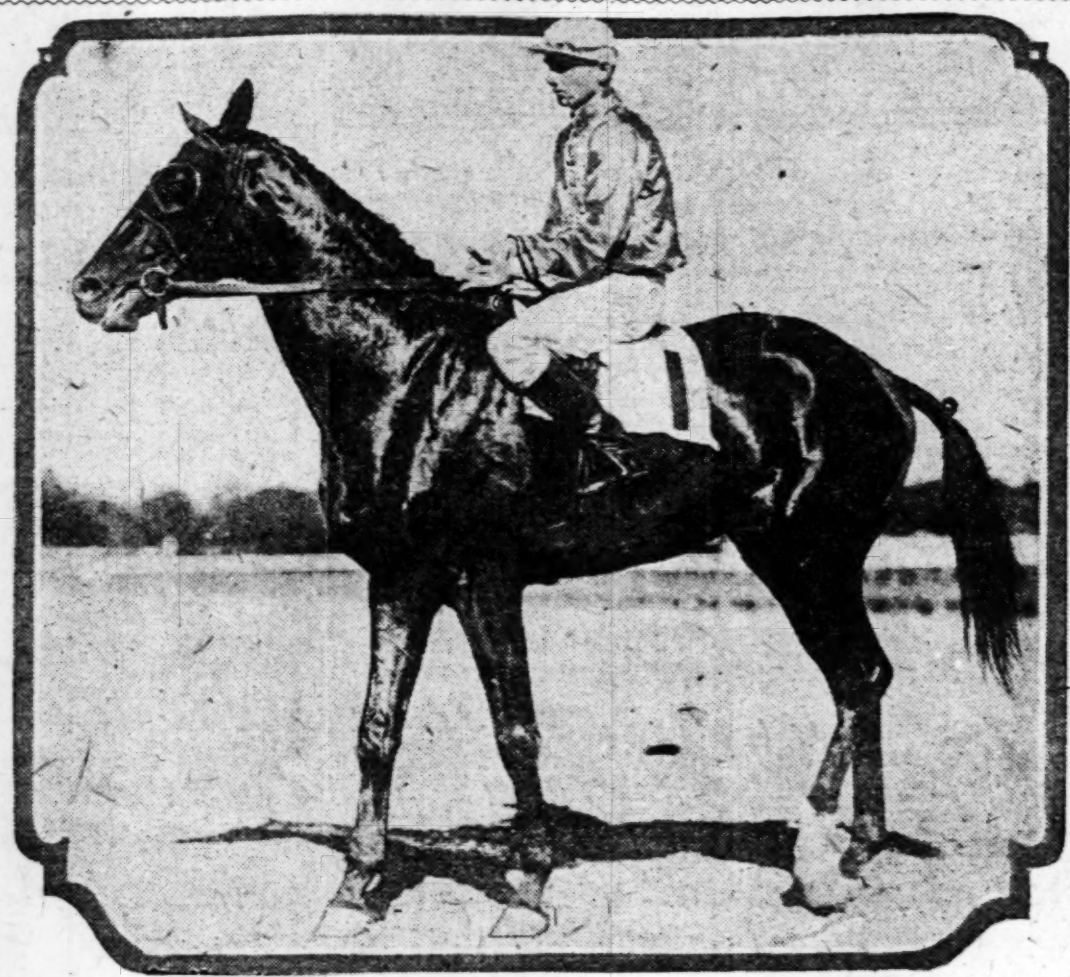

The American Association champions left home last night with a big edge on their Eastern rivals, having won three of the four games played here. Two more victories will give Kansas City the series.

Baltimore's pitching staff crumpled before the onslaught of the heavy-hitting Blues in the Kansas City end of the struggle, except in the second game, which Baltimore won, when Groves allowed only four hits. Groves was found for six hits and four runs yesterday, however, before he retired in the seventh inning. Parnham, Baltimore ace, and Ogdin and Thomas have had no luck against the Blues.

Men, who pitched a one-hit game last Sunday, is expected to start for Kansas City in the opening game at Baltimore, while the International League, it is believed, will use Parnham or Ogdin.

The four Kansas City games were attended by a total of 62,479 fans, with net receipts of $77,250. Of this

Will Meet Papyrus if Anything Happens to Zev

MY OWN.

Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson's fine 3-year-old, shown in the picture with Jockey Earl Sande up. Admiral Grayson was once more disappointed when it was decided at the last minute of race Zev against Papyrus, but it is expected that My Own will meet the winner of the international race in Maryland, next week.

Papyrus' Price Here Now 3 to 2

Eastern Rumors Cause Drop in Odds Against British Match Race Contender.

Speculation on the match race here saw a drop in Papyrus' price, following rumors of Zev's unfit condition and the possible substitution of My Own in the $100,000 event.

Tom Kearney, a local turf authority, stated that commissions in St. Louis were being placed on the basis of 3 to 2 against Papyrus and 2 against the American contender.

There was a disposition on the part of bookies to let the same odds for My Own, if necessary, compelled the committee to start him instead of Zev.

BOXER GETS LEAVE OF ABSENCE FROM JAIL AND WINS HIS BOUT

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 19.—Teddy Smacka, local bantamweight boxer last night obtained a "leave of absence" from jail long enough to go to Passaic, where he defeated Willie Darcy of New York in a 10-round bout. Smacka and his trainer, I. N. Mott, recently were sentenced to two weeks in jail for failure to attend drills of the New Jersey National Guard. The bout had been arranged a month ago. Mott accompanied Smacka to Passaic, both in charge of an army sergeant.

It was announced by Tex Rickard today that Abe Goldstein would be substituted for Lynch in tonight's bout.

"KIDS' GATE" POPULAR AT DRAKE STADIUM

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 19.—Knot holes in the Drake University stadium walls and points of vantage around the bowl have lost some of their popularity this fall with the inauguration of a "kids' gate" through which the youngsters have streamed by the hundreds to watch the Drake football men in action.

University authorities say the "kids' gate" probably will be continued throughout the present season. One entire corner section of seats is given over to the youngsters who are admitted for 25 cents.

Trainers Divided In Opinion as to Probable Winner

Breeder of Zev Feels "Uneasy" After Viewing Papyrus' Last Two Workouts.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Trainers who have been watching with high interest the preparation of Zev and Papyrus for the international race with $100,000 stake at Belmont Park are not as one over the outcome.

Some favor Zev, some lean to Papyrus, while others think the race too open to express an opinion.

Here is what some well-known trainers had to say when asked the question as to which would win—a question so many have been seeking to answer:

JOHN E. MADDEN—From what I saw Papyrus do in his last two works I feel a little uneasy. (This is significant, as coming from the breeder of Zev.)

D. R. McDANIEL—I like Zev. I have had seven horses shipped to me in one year from England and know what handicap is imposed by a trip across the Atlantic. I may be prejudiced on this score, but I like Zev because condition will count so heavily.

Papyrus a Stayer, Hogan Thinks.

WILLIAM HOGAN—There is not much to choose between them on public work. Papyrus looks like a better stayer and the one most likely to go the distance.

TOM WELSH—I have no strong opinion. They look pretty even to me.

JAMES FITZSIMMONS—Papyrus is a natural stayer, if I am any judge, while there is a question in my mind about Zev going the full distance. The race is at a mile and a half, and I think the English horse will win.

GEORGE ODOM—What I have seen of the English horse I like. His recent gallops have been impressive. It looks to me like a good race, but I favor Zev slightly. He has been training well and condition means much.

Of course much depends on the way the race is run. Too much pace might beat Zev. (Odom as a jockey was one of the best judges of pace in the country. He knew how to wait and when to move. It is not surprising then, that he puts emphasis on the way the race is run.)

W. H. HOAG—I favor Zev because of his high speed, which means that he can take the track and be rated along in front. Then, too, he had been trained over the track whereas it is new to the English horse which has been running on turf in England.

TOM HEALEY—I like the looks of the English horse, but I have no conviction as to which one will win.

Conditions Against Papyrus.

CLARENCE BUNTON—I'm not sure Zev is a stayer, but it's asking too much of the English horse to cross the Atlantic and race a mile and a half over a track to which he is not accustomed and under different climatic conditions. It looks like a good race, but conditions favor the American horse.

SIMON HEALY—It's too hard for me. I do not think Papyrus has had enough work since arriving in this country. A horse must be able to go a mile and a half. I think Zev is ready and condition is sure to count.

JACK JOYNER—I'd like to see the American horse win, but I favor Papyrus, not only on his recent work but on his class. We know he can go the distance. He proved that in the Derby and the St. Leger.

The latter was to have met Burman in a title bout tonight, but injured himself yesterday in a fall from his automobile and claimed that he was unable to go on. It was said that Lynch sustained a dislocated shoulder.

It was announced by Tex Rickard today that Abe Goldstein would be substituted for Lynch in tonight's bout.

100 SYRACUSE ROOTERS WALK TO NEW YORK TO SEE ELEVEN PLAY PITTS

By the Associated Press.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 19.—More than 100 students of Syracuse University, unable to finance railroad passage, started today to walk to New York to see Syracuse play Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Comiskey said no announcement as to Gleason's successor will be made until after the annual meeting of the American League to be held here in December.

Collins, who has been groomed for a managerial position, has been with the Sox for 16 seasons and on numerous occasions directed the club, with success, during Gleason's absence.

Wray Colman Must Be a Miracle Horse.

I F Papyrus—accent on the "Pie," if you wish to call him correctly—defeats the American representative in the match race, one of two things will have been established: Either Papyrus will have proved himself almost as much a miracle horse as the mighty Man o' War, or our American turf representations are of ordinary caliber.

This fact is made certain upon a consideration of the handicaps which the British representative must overcome. Here they are:

Stormy voyage across the ocean.

Change of water; enough English food was brought to avoid trouble in that respect.

Only 20 days in which to recover lost condition.

Inability to build up to normal weight in needed allowed.

Shift from turf to dirt track, considered hard on the feet.

Shift from two RIGHT turns on English tracks to four LEFT turns on Belmont track.

Difference in American starting barrier from one used in England.

When it is considered that the slightest setback in any respect between two otherwise equal contenders can result in defeat, it can be seen how great is the chance that one of the handicaps will intervene to the extent of beating the British contender.

And yet the odds today have slumped to 3 to 2 against Papyrus and 4 to 2 Zev.

Another Handicap.

A NOTHER handicap which the British horse faced was the fact that as representative of the English turf he had no alternate, where America had My Own available.

This makes certain that the British horse will oppose a thoroughly fit contender.

If anything happens to Papyrus—yes, there is no alternate. Sick or well, he has to go it alone.

This match may seem a sporting proposition but on its face it is one of the most one-sided arrangements in the long history of match contests dating back to the middle of last century. Papyrus has everything against him, the American contender everything in his favor.

Match Races of Long Ago.

THIS match race has fallen in to disfavor of late years. About the only one of international note in recent times was the procession which Man o' War led home at Windsor, in 1920, when Sir Barton made such a dismal showing.

The principal characteristic noted in the last 30 years of match racing has been the shortening of the distance at which the contenders competed. One of the greatest races in the history of this country, the three-cornered event at Morris Park in 1894 in which Henry of Navarre, Domino and Clifford competed, was only one and one-eighth miles—scarcely a distance to be considered a test of stamina.

Many match races were at one and one-fourth miles, but back in the halcyon days when they sent horses over tests that would today be called cruelty to animals, they would look upon such a race as a mere warm-up for a real struggle.

Imagine the horses of today being asked to do what Lecomte and Lexington did in their two races at New Orleans in 1854 and 1855. In those days match races were decided in four-mile contests. Lecomte won the first in 7 minutes and 26 seconds, but Lexington won the next time in 7:23 1/4.

Freiburg Hurt in Effort to Escape Stecher's Scissors

Ribs Are So Badly Sprained Chicago Wrestler Is Advised Not to Continue.

John Freiburg's ribs were severely squeezed by Joe Stecher's scissors hold in their wrestling match at the Coliseum last night. This morning his body was sore and he appeared to be in pain that he would have to cancel matches that he had scheduled. A fracture was revealed by a physician's examination, however.

Freiburg's condition is due to an end-throw from six minutes to a body, scissors hold applied by the former world's champion.

John C. Meyers asked Freiburg to get up, but Freiburg shook his head, although seeming in great pain. He finally gave in and his shoulders were placed after an hour and six minutes of wrestling.

Freiburg, despite a 15-pound weight advantage, never had the former title holder in danger. After an hour of wrestling Stecher applied the "scissors" from a standing position, but Freiburg managed to escape where a bar arm lock added, in pain compelled him to concede the fall.

It was announced to the crowd, when it came time for the second fall to start, that Freiburg was willing to attempt it, but the physicians had advised against it. He would undertake it if the doctors insisted. An emphasis was saved Freiburg from more injury.

Dan Koloff beat Jack Sterling in eight and one-half minutes, with McGillicuddy of Omaha downed Ed Galza in 12 minutes, in the preliminary events.

Both Triple Threat Players.

If these two players participate, the Bullfinch chances for victory will be far greater than if their condition forbids entrance. Both are triple threat men. Ramacciotti's shoulder may prevent him from passing with accuracy but Hannegan's presence makes it unnecessary for "Ram" to care for other than the actual running advance.

Harry McConachie, who has displayed better football this season than ever before, and Clarence Egler will be the other Blue and White men in the backfield. Egler will call the signals and direct the play.

This quartet will average 161 1/2 pounds. Each member is fast and at the high running, hard to tackle type. The relief backfield men, consisting of "Dutch" Schaeftering, McCarthy, McKennie and O'Leary are lighter, but a trifle faster.

Joe Higt and Ed Amaral are the selections for the ends. This pair has played great football in the three games to date. Amaral's game at following a play around his opponent and nailing the runner before the tackle berth on the right of the line. Both of these men are rugged, fairly heavy and fast enough to form interference for the backfield on end circling plays.

Leo Schwartz, the silent youth who has been breaking up many enemy plays during the last two years will show at left tackle, and "Buddy" Westhus is Coach Savage's choice for the tackle berth on the right of the line. Ramacciotti and Hannegan to Start for Billikens In Game With Missouri Team Tomorrow

Coach Savage Will Send His Strongest Lineup Against Tigers In Annual Football Struggle—Geraghty Shifted Back to Center—Greenan Has Shown Great Improvement.

By Frank Gaffney.

In the neighborhood of one ton of St. Louis University brawn and muscle will be hurled at the Missouri University football team at Sportsman's Park tomorrow when the Billikens and Tigers meet in their annual battle for the football supremacy. Coach Dan Savage announced a line-up last night, which he termed "as near to the final selection as it is possible to make at this time."

The selection is certainly an optimistic one, for the doctored line of the Blue and White is apparently considering his greatest strength, at least to start the fray.

Savage believes that his two star backfield men, Ramacciotti and Hannegan, will be in shape for a portion of the game. "Ram" worked well last night during the preliminary formation and signal drills, but it was seen that he was favoring his right shoulder. The special equipment ordered by Trainer Paddy Fitzgerald for the injured player is of a new make and is similar to one recently used in a Pennsylvania game by a player named "Ram." Ramacciotti's shoulder may prevent him from passing with accuracy but Hannegan's presence makes it unnecessary for "Ram" to pass for other than the actual running advance.

Harry McConachie, who has displayed better football this season than ever before, and Clarence Egler will be the other Blue and White men in the backfield. Egler will call the signals and direct the line.

This quartet will average 161½ pounds. Each member is fast and is a high runner, hard to tackle up. The relief backfield men, consisting of "Dutch" Schaeffering, McConachie, McKenzie and O'Leary are better, but a trifle faster.

Joe Higl and Ed Amaral are the line backs for the ends. This pair played great football in the two games to date. Amaral's game following his own play around his own line and nailing the runner before the line of scrimmage has helped St. Louis out of several tight spots. On the offense he is now taking forward passes in good style and is running in a broken field.

Graghty to Play Center. Leo Schwartz, the silent youth who has been breaking up many enemy lines during the last two years will now at left tackle and "Buddy" Wehr is Coach Savage's choice for the tackle berth on the right of the line. Both of these men are hard, fairly heavy and fast enough to form interference for the line and end circling plays.

Leo Quirk and Jack Greenan have been detailed to the guard positions. Nothing need be said about the defense ability of the Billiken captain who has demonstrated over a two-year period that his mighty bulk can withstand terrific onslaughts. The great improvement of Greenan during the last week has caused Line Coach Rademacher to give him special attention.

Stevin Geraghty was back to his original place at the pivot. This lad is a piece of dynamite in a closely battled game and his great strength is apparent when he is under a heavy fire.

The line as selected by the coaches will carry a combined weight of 1270 pounds for an average of 181 3-7 pounds a man. The substitutes are Luepke, Clarke, Leo McConachie, McKenzie and O'Leary.

80 PRISONERS IN MOUNT JOY RELEASED BY FREE STATE

100 Others Removed—Tunnels of Communication Are Found Between Cells.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—Discovery of a tunnel used by prisoners for communication between their cells was reported today by the authorities of Mount Joy Prison, where several hundred republican soldier prisoners recently started a hunger strike. The authorities declare that none of the prisoners is seriously ill as yet in consequence of the strike.

At the Government offices this morning it was said that 80 of the Mount Joy prisoners had been taken from the institution during the forenoon. This followed the removal of 80 others last evening. The prisoners were taken to a new place of detention, which was not disclosed.

Eighty of the Mount Joy prisoners were released today, some of them after signing an undertaking to keep the peace. It is said in Sinn Féin quarters that 50 of these prisoners were released unconditionally.

Gale Sweeping In From East Causes Persons in Saloon to Be Thrown to Floor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A violent Easterly gale which swept down on the steamship Aquitania as she was passing Nantucket last night caused the vessel to lurch sharply, upsetting saloon passengers gathered in the lounge and causing injuries to 14, officers declared on arrival of the ocean liner today.

Allen G. Archer of Los Angeles, sustained a fracture of the left thigh and was taken to the ship's hospital. G. O. Case of London, England, and George Gray, an assistant purser, sustained severe cuts and bruises. Captain Sir James Charles said the storm was the worst he had seen in his 43 years at sea.

ARRESTS OF JEWS IN WARSAW

WARSAW, Oct. 19.—Some of the principal Jewish labor leaders have been arrested as suspects in connection with the explosion in one of the forts of the Warsaw citadel last Saturday, which killed approximately 50 persons and wounded nearly a thousand.

An Innovation in Overcoats

The latest and most novel feature to be had only in Bond's Overcoats—a muffler made right into the Overcoat—a part of the garment—ready at a moment's notice—yet folded back out of sight when not in use.

This practical and convenient muffler will be found in many of Bond's Overcoats. See it today!

The Style is "Tailored in" Stitch by Stitch

THOUSANDS of men are having this very same experience. Bond's tailored Clothes have always been reliable. The price a man pays here has always purchased him a remarkable value. If you do not know these facts—it is only because you have not as yet had the pleasure of owning a Bond garment. Wear Bond's Clothes—you'll know the real meaning of Economy—Appearance and Clothes contentment!

Bond's Clothes cannot be duplicated at Bond's prices! It's easy to make a statement but we put it squarely up to your own judgment to try it. Comparison is still Bond's best salesman; convincing yourself is far better than allowing anyone else to convince you. So when you set out to buy Clothes look where you will—and you'll do like thousands have done—come to Bond's and buy!

Types of Girls Every Man Meets

.. "The Chatterbox" ..

By MARGUERITE MOORS MARSHALL

LET'S give three rousing cheers for the Chatterbox! What would this sad world be without her?

Doesn't any man appreciate, once in a while, a girl who will talk and talk and TALK, and never expect him to say anything, even though he gets a chance between breathing spells?

It is so restful just to sit and drink in her volubility, with nothing to do but emit an occasional "yes," "no," or, "is that so?" to keep her going.

I called one evening on a chatterbox. For two and a half hours I was lulled by the most copious flow of words I ever enjoyed hearing.

And then, as I was prepared to leave, I met the reproach, "Do you know you haven't said two words all the evening?"

I was silent for a few moments, trying to think of the two words I had omitted.

Suddenly they came to me, and I said in my most dulcet tones, "Good night!"—and left.

Probably I am still unforgotten for my brusqueness, but little she knows how wonderful it was for me to sit and listen and not to be expected to say more than two words.

And so I repeat, Three rousing cheers for the chatterbox! Only, never play bridge with one if you take your bridge seriously.

Or take one motoring if you have any regard for your car.

Why Science Must Direct Every Infant's Welfare

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

RECENTLY I read a newspaper account of some explorations undertaken by a United States ethnologist. He discovered a mummified Indian baby in South Dakota. What is more important, because of its teachings, is that he found the remains of three babies for every full-grown Indian.

Most of us are more or less old-fashioned. We hark back to the "good old times" and the superiority of the early methods of living. We brag about what it means to bring up a baby "according to nature."

Mr. Sterling, the ethnologist, is a competent witness to that sort of up-bringing. It means early death for four or five times as many babies as die today.

I am so glad that communities are awakening to the importance of baby welfare and are inquiring as to the best means of guarding infant life. The other night, in Northern Michigan, I spoke to a group of men and women, explaining the results of pre-natal and infant care.

Without urging, these kind and far-seeing friends contributed the relatively small amount of money necessary to run their baby clinic for the next year.

There are many disappointments in the advances being made in medicine. We become impatient because the outlook in our particular age group is not improving as rapidly as we could wish. It is in the extreme of life that the brightest medical laurels have been won. The fairest page of all is what has been accomplished for the babies.

Methods in infant feeding have made great progress. Everybody should know this and take advantage of the better knowledge. Nobody doubts that the means of transportation have marvelously improved. There is a vast difference between the old and the new. The highest admonition I can give you is to follow to the letter the instructions of the best-informed doctor you can find, as to the feeding of your particular baby should have. Don't do as the Dakota Indians did with their babies. Give the little ones the benefit of 1923 methods.

HOME-MAKING HELPS
How Some Little Things Help Solve Big Problems

By WANDA BARTON.

THERE are always so many things needed in the house that it is sometimes hard to decide which we should buy first, but a suggestion often answers the question for us and off we go with a definite object in mind.

Every kitchen needs a good stool. It should be high enough to sit on at the gas stove when stirring things cooking there, to draw up to the sink when washing dishes and for many other uses. A stool recently discovered is a ladder combination which is stout and strong. The legs are so spread that it bears a heavy weight safely, and last but not least among its virtues is that it folds and may be stowed behind a door when not otherwise needed.

The ladder is high enough to reach the shelves in ordinary closets, to dust pictures or to wash windows. The stool is a little heavy, but not heavy enough to be a serious drawback, while the cost is not as much as a ladder and a stool purchased separately.

Safe is the berry pie that wears a paper necktie! That necktie keeps the juices from flowing out into the oven. It is made of a strip of good quality manila paper, seven-eighths of an inch wide, and it comes in a roll, perforated every 34 inches, and long enough for 20 pies that many inches in circumference.

Each pie length has a gummed end. To use the safeguard, you put all but the gummed end in water for five minutes. When the pie is ready for the oven, you drain the tape and fold it around the edge of the pan, or plate, allowing more than half the width to extend above the rim, draw closely and fasten the gummed end. The tape dries in the oven and becomes tighter so that it forms a perfect guard for the juice.

Set of jars, to hold the dry stuffs on the kitchen shelves, in pottery, china and tin have long been favored. But glass jars neatly labeled for the same purpose are likely to become leaders, for they have many advantages over the others.

First, you can see what is inside and just how much we have on hand of any one thing.

Second, they wash and polish easily and look neat and nice on the shelves.

Bottles for liquids are part of the set.

Women of a semi-scientific turn of mind and orderly ways of doing their cooking are not slow in learning to appreciate the thermometer family. Perhaps the thermometer for the oven is the most generally in use, because it takes all the guess work from cooking meats or other foods that must be cooked a long time. Easy to understand in its working, not overly expensive,

Vogue of Velvet

Striking Feature

of Fall Fashions

By AILEEN LAMONT.

(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK.—The field of the cloth of gold, which set fashions for the world in the Middle Ages, would have run a poor second to the fields of the cloth of velvet of the present season. The stands of all the early fall football games have been velvet-lined so far as the feminine spectators were concerned and the ballrooms and the streets have shown an equal preponderance of the fabrics. Formerly only royalty was permitted to wear velvet, but today royalty is about the only class which cannot wear it. For royalty is very hard up at present.

Wool velvet, silk velvet, broad-velvet, chiffon velvet, printed velvet and other types are employed in the various costumes, the designs of which, in their narrow, tubelike silhouettes, continue to show more than a faint trace of the middle influence.

For the velvet street frocks, otter and beaver seem to be favored for trimming by the French designers. One recent importation is of green vandyke velvet with a wide collar of beaver and deep bands of the same fur at the knee and hem lines. A coat wrap from the same house is of tobacco brown velours

de laine or woolen velvet with collar and cuffs of otter and a band of otter spiraling down the front,

around the hips, and continued

around the hem.

In the evening frocks startling color contrasts are becoming exceedingly frequent. For example, a black silk velvet gown with deep V neckline is redeemed from the common place by a draped apron of red lacquered silk caught at the left hip by a huge black velvet bow.

Many of the velvet frocks are completed by rhinestone paste or jeweled shoulder straps which serve the double purpose of keeping up appearances and the frock at the same time.

In connection with keeping up appearances many of the present-day

corsets are being woven to measure

so that no fastenings of any sort need break the smoothness. These have their lines continued in bras-series of lace which form a deep

V in front and leave the back entirely bare.

Lancelot Kemp Is His Name

Mostly Sally By P. G. WODEHOUSE

A Continued Story.

The Boys Call Him "Ginger"

"I means a pretty long wait, you know. As far as I can gather, there's just a chance of somebody else coming in later, in which case he could let us out. But it's doubtful. He rather thinks that everybody has gone to roost."

"Well, we must try it. I wouldn't think of losing the poor man his job. Tell him to take the car down to the ground floor, and then we'll just sit and amuse ourselves until something happens. We've got lots to talk about. We can tell each other the story of our lives."

Jules, cheered by his victims' kindly forbearance, lowered the car to the ground floor, where, after a glance of infinite longing at the keys on the distant desk, the sort of glance which Moses must have cast at the Promised Land from the summit of Mount Pisgah, he settled down in a heap and resumed his slumbers. Sally settled herself as comfortably as possible in her corner.

"You'd better smoke," she said. "It will be something to do."

"Thanks awfully."

"And now," said Sally, "tell me why Scrymgeour fired you."

Little by little, under the stimulating influence of this nocturnal adventure, the red-haired young man had lost that shy confusion which had rendered him so ill at ease when he had encountered Sally in the hall of the hotel; but at this question embarrassment gripped him once more. Another of those comprehensive blushes of his raced over his face, and he stammered.

"I say, I'm . . . I'm fearfully sorry about that, you know!"

"About Scrymgeour?"

"You know what I mean. I mean, about making such a most ghastly ass of myself this morning. I . . . I never dreamed you understood English."

"Why, I didn't object. I thought

"Well, They Call Me Lancelot," He Said

"Scrymgeour?" he said. "Oh, that would bore you."

"Don't be silly," said Sally reprovingly. "Can't you realize that we're practically castaways on a desert island? There's nothing to do till tomorrow but talk about ourselves. I want to hear all about you, and then I'll tell you all about myself. If you feel diffident about starting the revelations, I'll begin. Better start with names. Mine is Sally Nicholas. What's yours?"

"Mine?" Oh, ah, yes, I see what you mean."

"I thought you would. I put it as clearly as I could. Well, what is it?"

"Kemp."

"And the first name?"

"Well, as a matter of fact," said the young man, "I've always rather hushed up my first name, because when I was christened they worked a low-down trick on me!"

"You can't shock me," said Sally encouragingly. "My father's name was Ezekiel, and I've a brother who was christened Fillmore."

Mr. Kemp brightened. "Well, mine isn't as bad as that . . . No,

"Who's Got the Floor?" Demanded Sally

Sally looked at him coldly. "Is this a duel?" she inquired, "or have I the floor?"

"I'm awfully sorry."

"Not, I repeat for the third time, because I think it will interest you but because if I do you won't have any excuse for not telling me your life-history, and you wouldn't believe how inquisitive I am. Well, in the first place, I live in America. I'm over here on a holiday. And it's the first real holiday I've had in three years—since I left home, in fact." Sally paused. "I ran away from home," she said.

"Good egg!" said Ginger Kemp. "I beg your pardon?"

"I mean, quite right. I bet you were quite right."

"When I say home," Sally went on, "it was only a sort of imitation home, you know. One of those just-as-good homes which are never as satisfactory as the real kind. My father and mother both died a good many years ago. My brother and I were dumped down on the reluctant doorstep of an uncle."

"Uncles," said Ginger Kemp, feelingly, "are the devil. I've got an . . . but I'm interrupting you."

"My uncle was our trustee. He had control of all my brother's money and mine till I was 21. My brother was to get his when he was

25. My poor father trusted him blindly, and what do you think happened?"

"Good Lord! The blighter embezzled the lot?"

"No, not a cent. Wasn't that extraordinary! Have you ever heard of a blindly trusted uncle who was perfectly honest? Well, mine was. But the trouble was that, while an excellent man to have looking after one's money, he wasn't a very lovable character. He was very hard. Hard! He was as hard as—well, nearly as hard as this seat. He hated poor Fill!"

"Phil?"

"I broke it to you just now that my brother's name was Fillmore."

"Oh, your brother. Oh, ah, yes."

The Isle of Pines, south of Cuba, gets its name from its forests of pine which exist there at a lower altitude than anywhere else in the tropics. The island is almost a quarter the size of Porto Rico, and has a resident population of about 7000. The thermometer seldom registers higher than 80 degrees or lower than 60 degrees.

How Smoothing Wrinkles With Massage Cures Fatigue, Too

By LUCREZIA BORI The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

FATIGUE is the deadly enemy of the woman who would be beautiful.

Fatigue is brought on by overdoing. It may be overwork and it may be overplaying, but we must use our sense of the fitness of things to avoid this deadly enemy.

Of course there are times when the most efficient woman must put herself under strain to finish something at a given time. Plan as carefully as she will, things seem to crowd in upon her, and the first thing she knows, little tell-tale lines are appearing around her mouth and around her eyes.

These signs are enough to fill any beauty-loving woman with alarm, and immediately she must rest about doing something to arrest them. Rest and sleep are necessary to correct these faults. You know, yourself, that a good, sound health-giving nap can lift 10 years from a woman's shoulders.

Now, when you feel thoroughly tired, there are two simple massage movements that can do wonders to calm your spirits and bring smoothness and beauty back to your face. It's best to follow them with a nap if you can. If not, the massage alone will do wonders to help you until you can rest.

The first movement is to smooth your forehead and rest that tired feeling that comes into your head. Massage, you know, produces a better circulation, followed by a feeling of ease and relaxation.

For the forehead massage, either lie back upon a couch well piled up with pillows, or sit in a comfortable chair, allowing your back to find a firm rest. Don't hump over, but let your shoulders rest upon the back of the chair.

Now let your finger tips meet in the middle of your forehead, bracing them gently but firmly against your forehead, over the place where the wrinkles are.

Now move your finger tips back gently toward your temples, closing your eyes and enjoying the soothing movement.

Keep this up for five or 10 minutes. If there is someone who can do this for you, allowing you simply to close your eyes and relax, you will feel all the better.

The second massage movement is also quite simple.

Place a middle finger by the side of each eye, where fine little wrinkles are wont to gather from fatigue.

Now, pressing softly, move your fingers up and down, as if you were ironing out wrinkles in a smooth piece of linen cloth. It is just this if you put a bit of cream on either finger and it is absorbed into the pores, for sense of natural oils makes

"Go in that hollow fence post just as far as you can," said she.

wounded Bob White. From almost under his nose Mrs. Bob White again fluttered up and along just above the ground. She appeared as if she couldn't use one wing at all well. Reddy bounded after her. Several times he just missed catching her and then suddenly he understood. He looked a little sheepish as he stopped short. "That is Mrs. Bob White," said he to himself, "and she isn't wounded at all. She is trying to lead me away." Then he turned and ran swiftly back to that trail with his wonderful nose.

Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy, and he who rises late must trot all day, and scarce overtakes his business at night.

Wise men learn more from fools than fools from wise men.

We have always sufficient strength to bear the ills of another.

Vain glory blossoms, but never bears.

Judge before friendship, then concede till death.

Well for thy friend, but nobler far for thee.—Young.

If we had no faults, we should not take pleasure in noticing them in others.

The desire for knowledge, like the thirst of riches, increases ever with the acquisition of it.

Yourself

By J. J. MUNDY.

SOMETIMES you wonder if the struggle you are making to live well and do your duty as a liberal, loyal citizen is worth the effort.

You see other men apparently taking life easy, having little but still being contented and free from the cares and anxiety which you experience.

At times you are tempted to let down and become as these easy-going men.

Do not try it.

You would not be happy, and you would kill your initiative; your energy would be weakened and you would lose your ambition to advance.

If you have no pride, no desire to get ahead and go ahead, that is one thing.

But if you care a whit for the good opinion of others, you will not be happy and contented living as a failure.

Fellows have to live close to the cushion.

Not that there are not many apparent failures who are really successes from another standpoint if the truth were known.

But the failure, who had lost his nerve and deserted the struggle for a place in the world and the respect of his fellows, is not the sort for you.

Buck up, old man, do not let your nerve desert you.

PRESSED VEAL

PURCHASE a knuckle of veal, weighing three pounds or more, salt well and cook till tender. Line a mold with slices of hard boiled egg. Arrange pieces of veal in the dish. Cook the broth down till it measures about two cups, add a little celery salt and a few olives chopped fine. Pour over the meat and let stand over night when it can be turned out of the mold and cut in slices. Garnish with lettuce or celery leaves.

straight and short and is pleated under the yoke. Long sleeves are most practical and should be full and roomy, gathered into a narrow cuff which is trimmed with embroidery like that of the collar. A very practical idea is to make a pair of bloomers from the same material as the dress. These can be similarly treated with embroidery around the knee bands. This eliminates the necessity of laundering many petticoats and adds greatly to the smartness of the costume.

FASHION HINTS FOR HOME DRESSMAKERS

SCHOOL has begun seriously, and we must prepare carefully for the child's wardrobe. The most necessary article is a warm one-piece dress that will do for the early fall days when we want to go about without a coat. It should be appropriately suitable for school use, still it must exemplify a youthful and childlike spirit.

Care must be exercised in choosing the material in order that the wear and tear of daily use will not detract from its utility within a very short time. Serge, for instance, becomes shiny if not continually pressed, and woolen goods with a fuzzy surface become mussy and unattractive. The best materials for a child's school dress are alpaca, wool-crepe and wool jersey.

AFTER VILLON.

P LUMS and peaches we have galore,
Apples, lemons and grapefruit, too;
Cocoanuts, there are some in store,
Prunes and apricots, quite a few,
Watermelons and honey dew,
Grapes, both malaga and tokay;
But there's one question I'd ask of you:
Where ARE the bananas of yesterday?

ENVOY.

Where ARE the bananas of yesterday?

To get her poor dog a bananny;
When she got there the cupboard was bare,
And so the poor dog hadn't anny.

STOPPAGE OF PAYMENTS BY GERMANY INDICATED

Inspired Statements in Press Give Impression That Stresemann Has Decided to Default Unless Ruhr Administrative Authority
Is Restored to Berlin.

CHANCELLOR TO STATE HIS VIEWS PUBLICLY

Report That Reichswehr
Chief in Bavaria Has Been Recalled Is Confirmed by Ministry of Defense.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Inspired statements appearing in a section of the press would seem to indicate that the Stresemann Government has decided to default on future reparations payments and deliveries in the position of the occupying powers to resume her administrative authority in the Ruhr and the Rhine-land in connection with the task of getting the mines, the steel plants and the railways started.

Chancellor Stresemann, it is announced, will publicly discuss Germany's foreign relations and the situation in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

The report that General Von Los-ow, commander of the Reichswehr in Bavaria, has been recalled by Dr.
Otto Gessler, the military dictator, has been confirmed by the Ministry of defense. While President Ebert and Dr. Gessler sincerely wish to avoid friction with Munich at a time when the Berlin Government is busily engaged in an effort to subdue the "red" premier of Saxony, Von Losow's stubbornness in insisting on the orders of the defense minister in which he has been liberally encouraged by the Bavarian dictator, Dr. von Kahr, has so increased both the President and Dr.
Gessler that they felt the military authority and army discipline would be menaced should they permit the Reichswehr commander to flout them further.

Unless Dr. Gessler now succeeds in selecting a successor to Von Los-ow as military governor of Bavaria, the central Government's state of emergency decree will become null and void so far as Bavaria is concerned and Dictator Von Kahr will be in a position to disregard any edict proclaimed by President Ebert or the Minister of Defense.

The immediate outcome of the present controversy will be another exchange of diplomatic amenities between Berlin and Munich in which the central Government, experience shows, usually comes out second best.
The situation with regard to Saxony indicates a temporary abatement in the tension of the last few days and the Berlin Government is considering its activities in that state a general policing movement in an effort to suppress lawlessness and violence.

A report that General Von Mueller, Reichswehr commander in Saxony, has been recalled is officially denied. It is said that the military governor of Saxony is acting in compliance with President Ebert and Dr. Gessler.

RUHR SEPARATION VIEWED AS NEAR

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The Rhine and the Ruhr are lost to the Reich, is the belief of Wilhelmstrasse, Chancellor Stresemann and his Cabinet do not know what they can do to prevent it and are helpless because the industrialists are letting it happen.

The only negotiations going on for renewal of work in the Ruhr are between Gen. Degoutte and M. Tirard on one side and the 10 big Ruhr industrialists on the other. At the same time that the French demand increased influence in the Rhine-land they are taking over into the French railroad administration the railroad between Frankfurt and Mannheim and between Osnabruck and Holland.

The 10 coal and iron mines in the Ruhr have failed for two days to give Berlin any report on their operations with the French and the Stresemann Government is tacitly admitting them do what they please.

The only place where there is any sentiment over the prospective separate Rhine-land is Belgium, where the enlarged Rhine-land republic under French influence, including probably Frankfurt, Hanover and Hamburg, is reported to be viewed unfavorably.

The Socialists here hold that the situation is not so serious as it is portrayed on Page 2, Column 7.
